Snipers—Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Orleans sniper shooting prompted new congressional calls Monday for making it a federal crime to kill or assault police or firemen while they're doing their duty.

"The tragic situation in New Orleans which finds policemen and firemen under deadly attack from sniper fire illustrates the compelling need" for such legislation, said Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of the House Internal Security Committee.

"In the unprovoked slaughter taking place in New Orleans," Ichord said in a statement to a reporter, "it appears that the attackers will be apprehended or killed by the state law enforcement officials."

But, he added, "in all too many cases, the assailants flee the scene of the crime so rapidly that federal assistance is desperately needed to bring them to justice."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said Congress should act at once to make attacks on police a federal crime and to restore the death penalty for killing lawmen.

Eastland said the New Orleans killings afford "ample evidence that a nationwide conspiracy exists to kill policemen."

Eastland said he believed his committee could act on his proposals promptly without any hearings.

Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said "continued attacks on policemen necessitate immediate passage by Congress of legislation to make the killing of policemen a federal crime."

'Freedom Schools'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Freedom Schools" in Chinatown, organized by Chinese parents opposed to integration busing, are facing difficulties after 16 months' operation.

Parents in the 17-block neighborhood—the largest Chinese community outside Asia—set up the private grade schools in the fall of 1971 after losing their battle against busing.

A federal court order in the summer of 1971 would have forced half of Chinatown's 3,000 elementary school children to ride the bus to other parts of the city.

Chinese parents said they were not opposed to integration, but wanted their youngsters to attend schools near their homes, where their Chinese heritage could be taught and preserved.

Now three of the seven original schools have closed, enrollment has dropped by more than half and tuition has tripled, said Dr. Dennis Wong, one of the leading organizers.

But the Chinese Parents Committee, organized five months ago to run the schools, has voted to keep the remaining schools open at least until June.

"We have had our setbacks, but we are also very determined to fight it—busing—to the end," said Wong, a pharmacist and father of three who heads the parents' committee.

Also, 12 of the 16 teachers hired last September have been replaced. Wong said eight teachers resigned, others were fired.

The teachers who resigned accused the parents' committee in letters of "inefficiency" and putting emphasis on "propaganda" and not enough "quality education."

"After I was there two months it became obvious to me that the committee was not really interested in quality education," said Celeste O'Keefe, a former teacher.

Wong argued that the committee accepted the resignations when the teachers "tried a power play" to take over control of the schools.

Enrollment in the schools has dropped from 1,500 to 60. Howard Clay, supervisor of school attendance for the San Francisco School District, said he estimates about 1,000 of the Chinese children have returned to public schools.

Tuition has increased from $5 to $15 a month per child, Wong said.

Laird—S. Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told Congress Monday South Vietnam is virtually ready to take over the war if peace talks fail. But he said U.S. forces won't leave until American prisoners are released and missing GIs accounted for.

Contending South Vietnam's military capability will be greater than Hanoi's, Laird told a questioner: "I cannot say to you the South Vietnamese will never go North."

But the defense chief told the House Armed Services Committee Saigon is not being equipped to take over bombing of the North.

"Should negotiations fail," Laird added, "Vietnamization makes possible the complete termination of American involvement in the war, contingent always on the safe return of American prisoners of war and an accounting for those missing in action throughout Indochina."

Laird said the massive two-week U.S. bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong last month was a return to President Nixon's May 8 policy of bombing and mining the North until it agreed to negotiate an internationally supervised cease-fire, the release of POWs and an accounting of missing Americans.

He promised that "complete information" on the bombing will be given to the House Appropriations and Armed Services committees in a closed session Tuesday by Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Laird's comments on Vietnamization were interpreted by several congressmen at the hearing to mean the key to a peace settlement in the resumed Paris negotiations is an agreement by Hanoi to release American prisoners and account for the missing.

But the secretary refused to confirm that, saying he would make no comment that could "in any way jeopardize the talks in Paris."

Snipers Kill Six, Wound 17
Terror Grips New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS—Police work their way across the narrow walkway formed by the roof and the equipment penthouse atop the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge Monday in an attempt to clean out a sniper nest that had kept lawmen harassed for more than a day and taken the lives of six people. (UPI Photo)

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Heavily armed police rushed a rooftop hotel bunker Monday afternoon in a search for snipers who killed six persons and wounded 17 others, but found no trace of gunman.

A room-by-room search of the hotel was begun Monday night, but there was no immediate sign of snipers. Police admitted there was a chance one or two snipers had escaped, or even a remote chance there was only one gunman.

One sniper was killed Sunday night by police gunfire from a helicopter which swooped over the roof of the hotel. At that time, police thought there was a total of three snipers.

Police Supt. Clarence Giarrusso said Monday night he still believed there were at least two snipers originally, but "if they don't turn up anyone and there was another sniper, then he got away."

"If we don't find anyone, then we're going to admit something went wrong, possibly with us, and return to normalcy," said Giarrusso at a news conference Monday night.

"There's a gamut of possibilities ranging from police negligence to a superbrain sniper," said Giarrusso.

He said there was a possibility there was only one sniper to start with, "but I don't think so."

The superintendent said his men, about 200 of them, would search the hotel thoroughly, looking in air-conditioning vents, false ceilings and anywhere else a man could be hiding.

A gunman was killed by police marksmen firing from a military helicopter Sunday night as he bolted from a concrete block enclosure atop the hotel and ran a zigzag pattern across the roof.

His body lay on the roof all night and all day Monday. Police technicians did not move the body, but took fingerprints from it.

Giarrusso said the body had been tentatively identified, but would not give the name to newsmen.

Before the search, there was a report that one gunman was (Turn To Page Six) (See "Terror")

Tho Gives Kissinger
Icy Paris Reception

PARIS (AP) — The talks between Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho resumed Monday in an apparently icy atmosphere. An aura of grim confrontation hung over the new efforts to negotiate a Vietnam peace settlement.

President Nixon's security adviser and the North Vietnamese Politburo member conferred for 4½ hours in a Communist-owned villa in suburban Gif-sur-Yvette. It was their first meeting since the talks were suspended Dec. 13 and President Nixon ordered resumption of bombing attacks on the North Vietnamese heartland.

For the first time, there were no smiles or handshakes between the two sides, and Tho left Kissinger standing on the doorstep for almost a minute without sending an aide to escort him inside.

Kissinger finally pushed open the door and walked in, followed by deputy assistant secretary of State, William Sullivan, and other aides. At the end of the meeting, the North Vietnamese again broke with long-established custom and conspicuously failed to escort the Americans to the door. Kissinger left grim-faced, without his familiar smile.

As usual, there was no official word on what was discussed, but the Hanoi delegation said the two sides would meet again Tuesday morning.

Communist sources said privately that Tho's snub to Kissinger was a reflection of the strong feelings aroused in North Vietnam by the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong in which thousands of civilians were claimed killed or injured.

Kissinger told a Washington news conference Dec. 16 that he and Tho had worked out 99 per cent of a cease-fire agreement. He declined to give details of the one per cent still to be settled, but it seemed clear that major issues of principle were involved.

Nixon told congressional leaders last week that the new session of talks should demonstrate fairly quickly whether Hanoi was prepared to negotiate seriously on what the United States regards as the three basic issues: the return of American prisoners, the right of South Vietnam to determine its own future and effective supervision of a cease-fire agreement.

There has been little dispute here over the ultimate return of the prisoners, but Hanoi has always stressed that their return was conditioned on a general settlement regarded as satisfactory by the Communist side. American officials consequently (Turn To Page Six) (See "Paris")

Seven Nixon Aides Potential
Watergate Trial Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven members of President Nixon's White House or campaign staff were listed as potential witnesses as the Watergate affair trial began Monday for seven men charged with breaking into Democratic party headquarters.

The Nixon aides were among 60 witnesses which federal prosecutors planned to call in what is expected to be a lengthy trial stemming from the break-in and electronic bugging of Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex.

The defendants include a former White House consultant, a former official of Nixon's re-election campaign committee and another man who worked at both places.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Earl J. Silbert said among the witnesses he intends to call is Jeb Magruder, a former chief lieutenant in the White House communications office and a top official of the Nixon campaign committee; Herbert R. Porter, who was in charge of the surrogate speaker program in Nixon's campaign; Robert C. Odle Jr., personnel director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President; and Hugh W. Sloan, former treasurer of the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President.

The jury selection is expected to take a week or more, and some 1,000 subpoenas have been issued for a special panel from which a jury will be drawn.

Chief U.S. Dist. Court Judge John J. Sirica has ordered that the jury be sequestered during the trial because of the controversial and political nature of the case and the widespread publicity it has drawn.

On trial are: —George Gordon Liddy, former White House and Treasury Department aide and counsel for the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President until he was fired for refusing to answer questions from the FBI. (Turn To Page Six) (See "Watergate")

Tanaka Nosedives
In Japanese Eyes

TOKYO (AP) — The honeymoon has ended for Kakuei Tanaka, ranked only three months ago as Japan's most popular prime minister since World War II.

There has since been a noticeable cooling of public sentiment toward the 55-year-old leader whose humble background once encouraged predictions he would be "a prime minister of the people."

When Tanaka took office six months ago he was hailed as the answer to Japan's problems. Today many express disappointment.

Tanaka and his ambitious program to remodel Japan with new highway construction and decentralization of industry are blamed for soaring land prices and living costs.

Aashi Shimbun, Japan's largest newspaper, commented that "no Japanese Cabinet has experienced such a wide change in popular support and reaction during the first half-year in power as that of Prime Minister Tanaka."

Tanaka called a general election in December only to have his ruling Liberal-Democratic party's majority drop from 297 to 284 in the 491-seat lower house of the Diet, Japan's parliament. The opposition Socialists and Communists boosted their total strength from 101 to 157.

High Court Ponders
Quickness Of Trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday agreed to decide whether prisoners who were denied a speedy trial are entitled to have their convictions set aside or only to have their sentences reduced.

In the case accepted Monday for review later in the term, the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago ruled the government had been unreasonably slow in bringing a local man to trial for auto theft and ordered his sentence reduced by 10 months.

The Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., prisoner, Clarence Eugene Strunk, appealed to the Supreme Court, arguing that under the Constitution's guarantee of a speedy trial "the conviction itself was no longer valid."

Strunk, a carpenter, was sentenced to five years in prison in 1971 for taking a stolen station wagon from Oconomowoc, Wis., to Mt. Vernon, Ill. The Justice Department, in opposing the appeal, stressed that Strunk had conceded the 10-month delay between his indictment and the trial did not hurt him in preparing a defense. At the time, Strunk was in prison in Nebraska for an unrelated grand larceny offense.

WASHINGTON: The trial of the "Watergate Seven"—the men accused of bugging the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee last June — opened here Monday. Shown arriving, LTR: Virgilio Gonzales; Henry Rothblatt, attorney; Bernard Barker; Frank Sturgis; and Eugenio Martinez. The woman is unidentified. Testimony is expected to bring to light new details about the incident. (UPI Telephoto)

Can You Be Cured Over The Counter?

Two Philadelphia scientists have recently criticized the lack of effectiveness of nonprescription daytime sedatives. And their revelations only add new fuel to the controversy raging over nonprescription, over-the-counter drugs.

The one who stands to benefit most from any stricter regulation of drugs is the consumer—the same consumer who annually pays — millions of dollars for various types of patent medicines which do little more than lighten the weights of pocketbooks.

In regard to the recent sedative study, Karl Rickels, M.D., and Peter Hesbacher, Ph.D., say that well-designed and controlled studies of nonprescription sedatives are needed if the consumer is to be protected from drugs which may be ineffective and at times potentially dangerous. The report is published in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

Their study was a two-week trial of the relative effectiveness and safety of four products: Compoz, one of the large-selling nonprescription sedatives; aspirin, sometimes taken as a sedative; Libritabs, a commonly used prescription daytime sedative; and a placebo ("sugar pill") which has no medical effect other than psychological.

Neither Compoz nor aspirin had any better effect than the placebo as a mild sedative, the scientists report. The prescription sedative was much more effective.

The scientists studied 166 patients who suffered mild to moderate anxiety symptoms, at times accompanied by depression or other emotionally caused complaints. Neither patients nor doctors knew which of the four products the patient was receiving.

The study clearly indicated "the relative ineffectiveness of Compoz and aspirin in the short-term symptomatic relief of mild to moderate anxiety, tension and related complaints in private general practice."

In conclusion Rickels and Hesbacher argue that "If clinical (human) trials are required to establish the efficacy and safety of drugs prescribed under physician supervision, a requirement that is clearly warranted, then such trials may be all the more necessary in the case of drugs taken without such supervision."

Although over the past few years the Senate Monopoly Subcommittee, under the guidance of Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., has done a lot of investigation in the area of drugs, not enough of substance has been accomplished.

Even with all the adverse publicity received by many medications, gullible consumers still shell out hard-earned dollars on drugs which are probably no more beneficial than a good dollop of chicken soup, taste worse and can do a lot more harm.

Danger To Free Expression

Members of Congress swear, upon taking office, to uphold the United States Constitution. One of the basic tenets of that document, indeed the very keystone of our democratic society, is its guarantee of freedom of thought and expression. Suppose, then, that someone were to charge an agency of Congress with a sustained course of conduct tending to inhibit this freedom.

Many would, no doubt wishfully, greet such a grave accusation with skeptical disbelief. But suppose, further, that the charge were advanced by knowledgeable men of excellent reputation. This would require that what they say be given a thoughtful hearing.

This is exactly the situation, now that a large group of law professors and law school deans has asserted that the Internal Security Committee of the House of Representatives poses "a serious danger to freedom of expression." Their petition cannot be shrugged off, neither by the public nor by the House.

These 365 professors from 94 law schools (including the deans of 13 schools) uphold "the legitimate use of legislative powers to deal with matters of internal security." What they object to is what the Internal Security Committee does in the name of carrying out this task.

The Committee, they charge, "has become a permanent governmental mechanism, based upon a hardening bureaucracy of staff and files, designed to investigate and record the political opinions and associations of American citizens, and to use the data so collected to harass particular points of view which the committee does not share. We submit that this is not a proper institution to be maintained by a legislative body."

The solution proposed by the law professors' group, which is called the National Committee Against Repressive Legislation, is not original. On the contrary, it is a solution long urged upon the House by thoughtful persons who see the need to deal legislatively with internal security matters but object to the Internal Security Committee's tactics. These legal experts recommend that the burden be shifted to the Judiciary Committee. It is a recommendation in which we concur. The Judiciary Committee's broader base and perspective make it much better fitted than Internal Security to deal equitably with these concerns.

only in the Senate. The House is a spawning ground for American presidential candidates. It also is by far the favorite refuge of those whose ambitions exceeded their popularity.

In the newly convened 93rd Congress, a senator who has been in the Senate for 10 years. Office might feel like an outcast.

The latest to return to the Senate womb is George S. McGovern of South Dakota whose excursion into national politics ended in disaster. McGovern, at least, belongs to a very select group in the Senate who have never been in 1942, South Carolina's Strom Thurmond, then the governor of South Carolina, won the States Rights party nomination and carried four Southern states; Arizona's Barry M. Goldwater captured the Republican nomination in 1964, but came within a percentage point of winning the presidency.

Return to Senate Goldwater had the bad timing to run for the White House in the same year his Senate term expired and Humphrey, coming off four years as vice president, was jobless after his '68 defeat. But both scurried back to the Senate as soon as a vacancy opened.

Bonafide vice presidential candidates are almost as numerous, although Humphrey was the only one who succeeded.

Humphrey took Maine's Edmund S. Muskie as his running mate in 1968 and, although many may have forgotten, Alabama's John J. Sparkman was on the Democratic ticket with Adlai Stevenson 20 years ago.

Then there is Missouri Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton who won the vice presidential bid from the Democrats this year but was forced to abdicate when it was disclosed that he had undergone treatment for mental problems.

Senate Haven Far more numerous are those senators who sought but failed to gain their party's nomination.

In addition to McGovern, Sens. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Birch Bayh of Indiana, Harold Hughes of Iowa, Humphrey and Muskie made active or aborted efforts to win the Democratic presidential nomination. There may have been others who never surfaced.

For one, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield is convinced there won't be any presidential politicking for at least two years, a situation which he calls a "decided advantage" in trying to legislate.

But it's a safe, safe bet senators will be in the running at convention time in 1976 and if a senator is the loser it's almost as good a bet he will come home to the Senate.

Change, Yes, But Disruption, No!

By BRUCE BIOSSAT (Last of four related articles.)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Even as they are beset by difficulties they did not expect to accompany material well-being Americans plainly turn away from the idea that their "system" should be drastically altered. Old laws of life mingle with new.

So those who see "revolution" in the discontent, the distrust, and the flailing of our institutions just don't get it.

In this time of swift change, quick answers are appealing, not only to simplistic radicals but to the millions in the middle class who have been the purveyors of easy living.

But those some millions in the middle, like their counterparts in all ages, fear change even as they desire it. They dislike gross disruption. In this country, people are terribly rootless anyway. They need anchors, reference points, havens.

In their frustration they may fulminate against their institutions, and thereby mislead hopeful revolutionaries. But they sense that they need these institutions — changed somewhat but not to unrecognizable shape. They want stability and order.

Their responses to oppressive bigness have produced some healthy "new freedoms," like wider participation in politics. But they have also led to excesses which sometimes make them seem determined to be ungovernable. The misguided haters of all order glorify these excesses. But the evidence mounts that more and more Americans are in fact sickened by them, and would welcome a new feeling of wholeness and order and direction in their lives.

They have not been blessed with leaders who can articulate their new problems, let alone propose solutions. Yet all blame cannot fall upon the politicians, or the managers of industry. The playwrights and other writers find nothing new or revealing to say. Music has thinned down to a few faint strains, lost in the thunderous, repetitive "rock" beat which surely is only a contrivance to fill a vacuum, a distraction of the ear from the fact that there is no message.

Our very gains, then have in critical ways been self-defeating. As the deeply perceptive historian, Daniel J. Boorstin, observes, the "democratizing" of life has flattened out experience. Television, travel, and abundance level the landscape. Excitement fades quickly. The romance and drama of living vanish just as they are grasped. On just its sixth happening, man's remarkable run to the moon is taken by many like a tired rerun of a favored television serial.

There is an enormous failure in all this. Is it the inevitable failure of affluence? Is there nothing to satisfy us, to challenge us, after we have attained it?

Some bright Americans do not think so. They are not the ones who say "return to nature," with its cruelties of disease and discomfort. Or who talk of halting technology and freeing men from all restraint.

They are men who suggest we must find wholeness and purpose in developing better our inner riches of mind and heart, searching for uncontrolled freedom but for real individuality in special appreciation of the lasting wealth of art, music, literature, and thought. All these realms have indeed endured, and do offer immense reward.

Thus enlivened in spirit, men may take new heart in tackling the "unchallenging" challenges of today's many complex and perversely multiplying problems — which now engulf and dishearten them. They may accept an old law of life. The pace of today notwithstanding, human problems always take time — and demand both brightness and endurance of spirit.

Ann Landers:

Husband Conveys Two Major Messages

Dear Ann Landers: Please, Ann, be fair. Tell every woman who gripes because her husband watches so much football on TV to button her lip. It so happens the games are played on weekends and holidays and that's when husbands are home.

How many of those housewives who complain are glued to their sets during the week, watching the doctor shows? When I was sick with the flu I couldn't get my wife to bring me a glass of orange juice. She was too busy with General Hospital, Marcus Welby, M.D., Police Surgeon, The Doctors, Medical Center and so on.

I say, "Let her who is without sin cast the first stone." What do YOU say, Ann Landers?—A Husband Who Watches Football and Could Be Out Doing Something Worse

Dear Ann Landers: I say you've conveyed two major messages—one in your letter and another in your signature.

The women are going to hate me but I agree with you. If the worst thing a wife can say about her husband is that he watches too much football on TV, she has a better marriage than most.

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you can come up with an answer. I am beside myself. My married son has two children. One was born on December 8th, the other was born on December 18th. My son's birthday happens to be December 3rd.

My son's wife decided that the birthdays are too close together, also they are too close to Christmas. She claims it is a lot of work to put on three birthday parties within two weeks, plus the fact the kids get cheated out of birthday presents because relatives ignore the birthdays and send only Christmas gifts and say "Happy Birthday and Merry Christmas!"

My daughter-in-law wants to celebrate the older boy's birthday in October and the younger boy's in November. She says it is only for the purpose of spacing the parties and she doesn't plan to mess around with the birth certificates. I am opposed to this idiotic plan because I believe birthdays should be celebrated on the day of one's birth. If this plan goes through, I will never be able to remember my grandchildren's birthdays and neither will they. What do you think?—Mixed Up Grandma

Dear Grandma: I think she should leave the kids' birthdays alone. But I'll bet she changes them. And when she does, resolve to keep your mouth shut like a good mother-in-law and go along with it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a very successful businessman. We are both past 50. Our children are grown and we are in good health. So what's my problem? My husband has no interest in anything but making money. I am ashamed to tell you we have never been out of the United States. Not even to Canada. He's been promising me a trip to Europe for four years. I buy the tickets, make the plans and at the last minute he has a big deal and can't leave town. Will you please tell me what to do?—Married But Single

Dear M. But S.: Buy the tickets, make your plans and tell Mr. Gotrocks if he can't leave town you will invite a friend, cousin, niece or aunt, someone who couldn't afford the trip otherwise. Then do it—and send me a postcard.

Law For Today

Q. I have been told that in case of injury a person may bring suit for damages against the responsible party anytime up to three years but, if the person dies, there is no time limit on when his family may sue. Is that true?

A. No, and many sad stories can be told by those who thought the law allowed more time for filing of personal injury claims than it does. Actually, the best time to start proceedings, or at least to prepare for them, is immediately, so that the circumstances can be investigated, evidence obtained and testimony taken. Generally speaking, the limit the law sets for filing claims for personal injury is two years from the date the injury occurred. However, there are exceptions to this rule and most exceptions provide shorter — not longer — limitations. Generally, the same rules apply to wrongful death but, again, there are many exceptions including those made under probate law. The best advice is to consult an attorney on this question. — Illinois State Bar Assn.

Installing officers were Gary E. Miller, installing officer; Louise Quinley, installing chaplain; Viola Beddingfield, installing marshal; Greg Mahlandt, installing organist; and Ron Kennerly, soloist.

Escorts for the installing officers were Barbara Johnson, William Petefish and Merle Beddingfield. The colorbearer was Bruce Skiles. As the Worthy Matron was escorted to the East, she was presented a bouquet of pink rosebuds from her family.

Greeters for the evening were the four grandchildren of Mrs. Miller, Melanie William, Brenda, Barbara and Bruce Skiles.

A reception was held in the dining room. Mrs. Paul Young, dining chairman, and her committee served from the beautiful tea table centered with a Christmas centerpiece and silver candleholders, pink and green mints and pink roses.

Today you have a keen interest in people, in what they do and in why they do it. Highly observant, you follow closely all that goes on around you, never leaving to chance anything which could have a bearing on your future, whether in the matter of your career or in your social or family life. You possess imagination and the kind of versatility it takes to make the best use of it. At the same time, however, you never mistake fancy for fact; you know the difference between what is, what might be, and what can never be and you never confuse the three.

Your desire for independence doesn't stop with yourself and your own concerns. You are as interested in the freedoms of the next person as in those of yourself, for you know full well that to deny anyone his basic rights is to deny yourself. You are not, however, one to jump the gun; you are willing to give others every opportunity to discover and to make up for injuries, oversights, and so on. Only after more than enough time for "making things up" has passed do you decide to take action.

Yours is an altruistic nature, one which you use freely in the cause of other people. You will have to take care, however, not to be taken in by those who would gain your support merely for their own advantage, with no thought for benefits to you. Learn that there is such a thing as too much altruism, too much generosity. When helping others causes serious setbacks to you and yours, it's time to rethink the situation.

Wednesday, January 10 CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)—Take care not to jump to conclusions regarding other people. Stick to your own affairs; it will inspire others to stick to theirs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Reconsider your sense of values where your work is concerned. You may be emphasizing the wrong phase of things. Expend fresh efforts on the whole.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—Make it your business to converse with friends on a subject of vital interest to your future. These are days which can push you ahead rapidly.

ARIES (March 22-April 20)—Be cautious when it comes to signing papers. Morning hours ought to be reserved for a reconsideration of decisions concerning your career.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—You should be making exceptional progress on the employment scene at this point. Career matters come up for consideration this afternoon.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Social contacts are important to your career; make some new and worthwhile ones today. Morning activities can do much to pave the way.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—An unexpected situation may make the morning more difficult to cope with than you had anticipated. Don't be too shy to ask for help.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—A day which favors the economics of the situation. Take any given project and reconsider its cost; you will probably find that you have overestimated.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—An estimate may be far from the real cost. Seek a second opinion before you allow another to do a job for you. You could be overpaying by a good bit.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—You can speculate freely today—but don't attempt to make any permanent arrangement or decision at this time. Consider—and reconsider—your future.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Step up production on the employment scene. A good day for you women who want to expand to the point of using new talents for added gain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Special possibilities for gain prevail today. You will have to be quick to grasp the full import of today's minor successes on your career.

TRAVELOGUE FOR ROTARY PROGRAM BY DR. HENDERSON

By E. H. Garlich
Dr. Alfred Henderson, retired head of MacMurray's History Department "took" members of the Jacksonville Rotary club on a grand tour of Europe at the Jan. 5 meeting.

Using a selected assortment of excellent color slides, Dr. Henderson gave his audience a rare chance to see usual and unusual places of interest on the continent.

The pictures were taken when Dr. and Mrs. Henderson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Crawford on a tour last fall through 12 countries.

Most of the travel was by bus with side trips made by auto, railroads regular cog and funicular, boats, barges, carts, gondolas and airfoils among others.

Henderson pointed out they were exposed to the metric system with its meters, kilometers, grams and kilograms, etc. He said it took a little getting used to convert 100Kph to 65 mph. One man in the group stepped on the scale to discover that he weighed 86 kilograms that is, in pounds it was 189.

His descriptions of the various crops being grown was outstanding. In addition to those familiar, there were hops, olives, flax and various citrus fruits. In most of the areas modern machinery, including IHC, John Deere and Oliver, were used; but some ox-drawn equipment and hand operation were observed.

Keeping track of expenditures made necessary a knowledge of pounds and shillings, francs, marks, lira, piasters, dinos and kopeks among others.

Dr. Henderson was introduced by Walt Hendrickson.

He's the first HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor-director John Cassavetes will serve as the first filmmaker in Residence at the American Film Institute Center for Advanced Film Studies in Beverly Hills.

Virginia Club Prepares To Elect Slate

VIRGINIA — Mrs. Mary Meyers, first vice president of the Virginia Woman's club, presided over the Jan. 3 meeting held at the Virginia library.

Forty members and guests enjoyed an interesting program by Mrs. Tamar Burch of Jacksonville. Mrs. Burch shared her experiences from the countries of Turkey and Iran and showed slides. She told of the religion and customs of these countries.

Miss Marjorie Taylor gave an interesting talk on the Mohammedanism religion preceding the program.

Thank-you notes were read from the Firemen's Auxiliary and the Walker Nursing Home. Mrs. Joe Palsgrove and Mrs. Robert Morse spoke on revision of old, or entirely new code pertaining to probate estate.

Mrs. Drogan requests all committee chairmen turn in reports. These are due to IFWC. This should be no later than at the February meeting.

Mrs. Drogan, president, named the following to the nominating committee: chairman, Mrs. Alan Landolt; Mrs. Harry Devlin, Mrs. John Boyd, Mrs. David Finney, Mrs. Glen Davis, Mrs. Richard Pugh, Mrs. Chester Carls, Mrs. Glen Petefish.

A delicious tea was served to the group by the special projects committee.

'Geographic Tongue'

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 38 years old, and in excellent health. My problem is my tongue, which looks like it has been scalded in hot coffee. The sores move to different locations, and the tongue cracks. This condition has lasted two years. When it gets so bad I feel I can hardly stand it, by morning it can nearly heal.

After getting a dental check-up a year ago, the dentist suggested I see a doctor fast. I did, more than one, and they didn't know what it was. Nevertheless, they sent me a bill.

At last I was referred to an ear, nose and throat doctor and he stated it was geographic tongue. He says there is no cure, but it is hereditary and he gave me a mouthwash with some healing ingredient which didn't taste nice and did no good.

I do not have any problems and am not under any stress. All my tests are fine. I even tried vitamins. If you can tell me anything or recommend anything I would certainly appreciate it very much. This is not a life and death matter, but it is an irritating problem.

Dear Reader—You have given a good description of the geographic tongue, particularly in saying that it can disappear almost overnight. Some of the taste buds on the tongue enlarge and others decrease in size, causing a hill and valley effect which gives rise to the term, geographic tongue.

The reason your doctors haven't done anything more for you is because the condition isn't well understood in terms of defining any specific cause, and the treatment is even poorer. It is indeed fortunate that this problem isn't a serious medical disorder, considering how little we really know about it. Mouthwashes are sometimes tried in the hopes of eradicating any non-specific infectious agent, and usually they don't accomplish very much. Vitamins are sometimes tried because similar disorders related to vitamin deficiencies are sometimes observed. The most likely ones would be the vitamin B complex group, and you might be well advised to take a daily vitamin B complex tablet or capsule, but don't expect too much.

In addition to that you would be well advised to avoid the use of coffee, alcohol, tobacco, spices and hot irritating drinks.

It seems to me that perhaps the most important thing that needs to be done has already been accomplished in your case, namely, making certain that you realize what you have is not "a life and death matter" and is not a serious health problem.

The tongue is often a good indicator of health. When the doctor asks a patient to "stick out your tongue" he can learn a great deal. The cigarette smoker and coffee drinker usually have a stained tongue. The vitamin popper may have a red stain from the food-coloring dye in some vitamin capsules. A number of vitamin deficiencies can alter the appearance of the tongue. Pernicious anemia causes the tongue to be pale and smooth with characteristic changes. A furred tongue may be seen in digestive upsets or in mouth breathers (then the problem is finding out why the person breathes through the mouth). Ulcers of the tongue caused by various diseases are important.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on cholesterol, send 50 cents to the same address and ask for "Cholesterol" booklet.

AMANDA PANDA

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Becoming an instant millionaire is not quite the exhilarating experience you would expect. Or so it occurs to the man who directed and co-wrote "The Godfather" on film.

Francis Ford Coppola hasn't seen all the money yet. But with "The Godfather" soaring over the $100 million mark in rentals, there can be no doubt that the film maker's percentage of the take will mount in the millions.

You might think he'd be exuberant.

"But it's not quite what it seems," said Coppola, a bulky, black-bearded man of 33.

The reason has to do with the director's rocky career in films. He started six years ago as one of the promising generation of university-trained film makers. In fact, his first film, "You're a Big Boy Now," constituted his master's thesis at UCLA. He then directed "Fanny's Rainbow" and "The Rain People."

Coppola had the dream of establishing a colony of film makers away from the Hollywood Establishment. He induced Warner Brothers to back him in a San Francisco-based company. Things went wrong, and last year he found himself $300,000 in debt. He accepted "The Godfather" in hopes of solving his financial woes.

"I not only had to pay back $300,000 to Warner Brothers; I had to pay another $300,000 that they wanted to cancel the deal," said Coppola. "I've also got to pay taxes on all that money."

He admitted that future earnings from "The Godfather" should establish his financial independence. But his newfound wealth has its drawbacks.

"It's impossible for me to make a 'small' picture any more," he complained. "To make one, the principals involved must work for small salaries, deferring payments until later. But how can I ask them to work for little money? They'd say, 'But you're rich!'"

Coppola who maintains his home and office here, is now filming "The Conversation." It's his first movie since "The Godfather" and his first for the new Directors Company which he formed with William Friedkin and Peter Bogdanovich to release through Paramount. Coppola calls it "a psychological thriller about privacy," and it stars Gene Hackman and Robert Duvall.

"This picture will cost about a million and a half," the director remarked. "That's too much. I'd rather make pictures for $700,000, but I can't do that any more."

"The daily cost of a more expensive picture makes you a nervous wreck. You're anxious not to make mistakes—you dare not make mistakes; and that's when you make mistakes."

Coppola said he still hasn't recovered from the tension he experienced during the early filming of "The Godfather." He was fighting for his own survival. Displeased with the footage, Paramount was sounding out other directors to take over. Some of the crew members were openly antagonistic. He fired them, got the film on the right track and the rest...

During the past year Coppola wrote the screen play for "The Great Gatsby," staged a play and an opera in San Francisco, wrote and is directing "The Conversation." He is understandably weary.

Women's Jeans Need That 'Hippy' Look

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the makers of women's jeans. When will they learn that many women's hips are larger in proportion to their waists than are men's? I love wearing jeans but hate to have to wear a belt to cinch them in to fit my waist.—E. B.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Can anyone tell me a fairly simple way to keep my house plants watered for a week or two so I will not have to bother my neighbors with this while we are away on a trip? Thank you.—HELEN

DEAR POLLY — I have just made a knit dress with a roll collar that zips down the neck. When making such a dress I usually tack the two points of the back of the collar to the dress so they lie flat, but I could not do that this time as my dress was a matching jacket. I sewed the tops of tiny snaps under the collar points and then bottom halves of the snaps to both dress and the jacket so I can always snap the collar down and it will stay in place. When cutting out a garment as you remove each section of the pattern from the fabric, pin it to the nearest curtain where you can see and refer to it and save a lot of looking and unfolding. This also keeps the pieces together.—MRS. J. R.

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Sally that we have found many uses for gallon-size plastic bottles. We fill them with water and freeze for our ice chest. We also freeze a fruit-flavored powdered drink the children like as well as iced tea. When they melt, we drink from the contents. Cut such bottles in half and use the tops for fun-3,000 pounds.

DEAR POLLY and SALLY—I have a great way to recycle used, empty gallon-sized plastic bottles. My son wanted a basket for his tricycle so I cut the top off a bleach bottle just below the handle. I scalloped the top of the bottom half and decorated it with plastic cowboys and Indians that were fastened on with those plastic-coated, wire bag closers after I had punctured the plastic with a sharp instrument. Plastic flowers would look nice on such a basket for a little girl. To attach the basket to the tricycle I cut two one-inch strips from the top part of the bottle and fastened them around the handle bars with a small nut and bolt.—MRS. G. B.

You Don't Have To Ask If —

Are You Getting Older?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Are you getting older?

Well, you don't even have to ask the question if —

You have more friends inside the cemetery than out of it.

The last thing you do before going to bed is write down a list of things you know you won't get around to doing tomorrow.

You spend more time looking backward than looking forward.

When you hear a new funny story, a picture flashes in your mind of the guy who first told it to you 25 years ago. But you can't quite recall his name or what became of him.

Your wife calls you Dad or Father.

Every year you buy garden seeds a few days earlier.

Getting a new tie for Christmas is no longer an ordeal, but a kind of consolation — because it is one tradition that is changeless. Instead of hiding the tie or giving it away, you wear it yourself the day after you get it, no matter what it looks like.

your daily speech is larded with faded colloquialisms, such as "They're spitting images of each other" or "I was only kneehigh to a grasshopper in those days."

That little round paunch you call a flat tire is getting alarmingly bigger, but you never carry out your threats to do anything about it.

You wonder often how some people manage to hold their jobs, but you no longer wonder how you hold yours.

Any morning you come to work and find the janitor has left your wastepaper basket beside somebody else's desk, you ask aloud why nobody seems able to leave things where they find them anymore. You don't really simmer down until you're halfway through your second martini at lunch.

When you see a man going up steps two at a time, you think he must be slightly balm.

You have forgiven yourself your own youth, but you can't forgive it in others.

Let the first snowflake of winter fall, and you lift your voice to all within hearing distance and bleat out, "You should have seen the great snowfall here in December 1947. There's never been anything like it before or since — except maybe the great blizzard of '89."

Without your realizing it, luncheon is more and more likely to consist of chicken a la king than steak, not only because it's cheaper but because it's easier to chew.

Recognize yourself?

Well, if you do, you may not be Methuselah yet, old-timer — but you're getting there.

MADRID (UPI) — Spaniards do not fumble for their keys outside their front doors on dark nights. They just stand and clap.

The clap is usually answered by the tap of a stick on the pavement and the appearance of a uniformed figure who unlocks the door and extends his palm for the customary few pesetas tip.

But Spaniards before long may have to learn to fumble like the rest of the Western world.

Few youngsters are coming forward to fill the ranks of the diminishing army of serenitos (nightwatchmen) who patrol the nation's streets at night—a job that traditionally passed from father to son.

At one time a retiring sereno with a good pitch (area) could expect offers of up to $2,500 from men keen to take over his 50 or so doorways. Now he will be lucky to find someone to take his place.

"I have a son but I wouldn't want him to take over," said Alberto del Campo Collar, who for 10 years has patrolled a pitch in central Madrid that was previously his father's and belonged to another member of his family for 46 years before that.

Like most of the other 1,500 serenitos in Madrid, Alberto comes from the small town of Cangas de Narcea in the northern province of Asturias, which traditionally supplied the men who winter and summer watch over the capital's streets and, to some extent, its morals.

One of their jobs is to scrutinize couples trying to sneak upstairs at night. If one of them does not live in the house, he or she is refused entry.

But no official salary and no social security benefits mean that Cangas is no longer so proud of the privilege.

"All we get is what people care to give us. We have to provide our own uniform. There's no social security, no pension," said Alberto, who during the day works in a suede factory.

"The job doesn't pay what it did. And it's not just a question of opening doors. You have to deal with drunks, people making a noise, watch out for thieves, look after cars. I have just been across town to a chemist shop for someone who is sick," Alberto said.

The job can be dangerous. Most serenitos tell tales of the times they were forced to crack someone's head with a stick. The majority of them carry pistols which they are licensed to use. In times of real crisis they alert other serenitos in the area with a blast on a whistle, which they all carry.

The sereno's cooperative has been pressing Madrid town council to provide a fixed salary to bring back some of the benefits of what was once a comparatively lucrative occupation.

Not So Lucrative
But the customary two or three peseta tip (3 to 4.5 cents) has not risen with the cost of living. Shops are less willing to pay a monthly sum for an all-night watch on their premises and some tenants prefer to keep their own front-door key.

Gone are the days when a sereno could expect to retire with a small pension or a bar bought from his savings.

Average monthly earnings are around 7,000 pesetas ($108), though some can make much more. A sereno with plenty of hotels and boarding houses in his area can do well on commissions for finding travelers a room for the night.

And a sereno with a top-class hotel on his beat can do well by pretending to unlock for rich tourists a door that is probably open all night—and have a warm, centrally-heated refuge for the small hours.

Serenos May Disappear
Some Spanish cities, such as Barcelona, have solved the problem by putting serenitos on the municipal payroll. Other towns, such as Madrid, seem content to let the custom die a gradual death.

"I think we'll disappear,"

Agustin Gonzales Boto said. "The best thing we can do is find ourselves something else and pack it in. It's a job you pick up through ignorance. I have never had a day off and I've been at it for 25 years."

Luis Lozano already has found something else. Working as a messenger during the day, he also runs a small pension. "Another two years and I'll be able to get out. I only do it because I have to. A lot of tourists use the hotels in my area. Half of them don't tip. And a lot of them don't know how to clap. They bang or whistle. The job isn't what it was."

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Hiding dirty dishes in the kitchen so they won't have to be washed and hiding clothes that they don't like so they can wear items they like better are just a few tricks six girls have been caught doing.

Garry L. Martin, associate professor of psychology at the University of Manitoba (Canada) is delighted with the tricks. These were considered normal behavior for the girls not given to exhibiting such behavior—and a good sign. Usually the girls are very withdrawn. They are severely to profoundly retarded. Before therapy they pulled no tricks.

On 60th Birthday:

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the eve of his 60th birthday, President Nixon said the way to beat advancing age is to avoid boredom, look to the future and — above all — to have young people around.

"Never slow down," the President said Monday in an interview. The presidency has many problems, he said with a smile, "but boredom is the least of them."

The most important thing for keeping young in spirit, Nixon said, "is to have young people around." He cited the influence of his daughters and young staff members because they "tend to keep you young."

The White House responded to a request for a birthday interview by arranging the 25-minute session with two wire-service reporters, but limited the subject matter to the President's observations upon reaching his 60th birthday.

The President stressed that slowing down as a person advances in age is a "terrible error. Never slow down the spiritual heart, then age is not going to pull you down."

Rather than the burdens of office causing a breakdown in health, Nixon pointed to boredom as "a more likely cause."

Nixon said it is also necessary to try to keep physically fit. He related how he tries to swim every day when he is at his Camp David retreat in the Maryland mountains. He said he took a plunge in the heated outdoor pool Sunday when it was five below zero.

He laughingly recalled that a new Secret Service agent could not believe that the President was going swimming in the cold.

"Are you trying to pull my leg?" the President said the rookie agent asked one of the veteran agents.

Nixon said he has given up celebrating most birthdays and now only makes note of the passing of decades for himself, his family and his friends.

He said he expects the first four years of his 60s, as he enters his second term, "to be very interesting. I hope to do great things."

Mrs. Nixon, daughter Tricia and Julie, and close friend C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo of Florida are planning a family party with Nixon's long-time personal secretary Rose Mary Woods to mark the occasion.

Nixon said he is against gifts because he has just about everything he wants. But he admitted with a smile, "I need nice. I can only wear them once or twice."

Nixon looked back on some of his milestones decades: at 20, he said, he was a junior in college, majoring in history and English, going out for football, "but I never made the team."

At 30, he said he was in Bougainville in the South Pacific during World War II. At 40 he had just been elected vice president. At 50 he had just been defeated for the governorship of California. And now at 60 he has just been re-elected for a second term as president.

"A man can never judge what time will do," the President said. He said he had never expected "least of all at 60" to be here at this time at 60."

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of thanking everyone who remembered us on our Golden Wedding Anniversary, Dec. 23. Each appreciated remembrance will long be cherished by us.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis

My thanks to my doctors, the personnel staff on the third floor Passavant Hospital, Rev. Boston, and Rev. Saylor, relatives and friends for prayers, cards, and flowers while I was a surgical patient.

Dorothy Boston

We wish to express our deepest appreciation for the flowers, contributions, memorials and many other acts of kindness after the loss of our loved one, Orval Kelly. Also, many thanks to the doctors and employees of Passavant hospital for their excellent care during his hospitalization.

The Family of Orval Kelly

The many congratulations, cards, flowers, phone calls and gifts received from our friends and relatives, Saturday Dec. 30th, truly made our 46th wedding anniversary a memorable day.

Chester and Adele Knapp

Our sincere thank you to everyone for their cards, flowers, prayers and acts of kindness during Lloyd's hospitalization and a special thanks to fellow employees of City Light and Power of Jacksonville, nurses, nurse aides, ministers and to the dedicated nurses of the Coronary unit of Passavant Hospital. Thank You, Lloyd and Virginia Blackburn

Round Hanoi; Da Nang Hit

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam announced Monday that hundreds of antiaircraft units have been formed by the home guard and militia in the Hanoi and Haiphong regions, the main targets of last month's massive U.S. air raids.

The announcement, broadcast by Hanoi radio, suggested the North Vietnamese are expecting new air attacks north of the 20th Parallel if the peace talks just resumed in Paris break down again. President Nixon stopped the bombing north of the parallel on Dec. 30, in a step obviously tied to resumption of the peace negotiations.

Radio Hanoi said the new antiaircraft units were being formed to "deal more stunning blows to the U.S. air marauders." The official government radio added that "more artillery units have been set up in Hai Hung and Ha Bac provinces" — west and northeast of Haiphong — by militia forces.

The command then announced that an investigation showed that five Air Force, Navy and Marine fighter-bombers, "flying above a heavy overcast, accidentally dropped 34 500-pound bombs at Da Nang air base."

The command said it was not known what caused the accident, which still is being investigated, but other sources said it was the result of pilot error apparently compounded by the overcast skies. The intended target was suspected North Vietnamese and Viet

In Saigon, the U.S. Command announced that five American tactical fighter-bombers accidentally bombed Da Nang air base Monday, resulting in injuries to 10 Americans and a South Vietnamese base guard.

The American casualties included eight servicemen and two civilians, the Command said. The accidental attack damaged about half a dozen U.S. AC119 twin-engine gunships and a helicopter. Four 40-foot fuel tanks also were destroyed in the bombing.

Earlier, the command had reported that the explosions that rocked the air base shortly after dawn were the result of an enemy rocket attack. Seven hours later, that report was withdrawn.

The command then announced that an investigation showed that five Air Force, Navy and Marine fighter-bombers, "flying above a heavy overcast, accidentally dropped 34 500-pound bombs at Da Nang air base."

The command said it was not known what caused the accident, which still is being investigated, but other sources said it was the result of pilot error apparently compounded by the overcast skies. The intended target was suspected North Vietnamese and Viet Cong positions near Da Nang. In a broadcast Monday night, Radio Hanoi claimed North Vietnamese troops had "victoriously attacked" the air base. This followed an earlier report from Da Nang that North Vietnamese MIG fighters had attacked the base, a report soon discredited.

U.S. warplanes continued to hammer enemy positions in North Vietnam below the 20th Parallel in an effort to stop the resupply of men and materiel.

The Saigon command said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks across the country dropped from an average of 100 a day for the past five days to 77 for the 24-hour period ending at dawn Monday. Most of the attacks were indirect fire by mortars and rockets, the command reported.

In another development, U.S. spokesmen reported the loss of the 33rd American warplane since Dec. 18 when the massive bombardment of the Hanoi and Haiphong regions began. The spokesmen said an Air Force F4 Phantom returning from a mission crashed near Udorn air base in northeast Thailand. The two crewmen bailed out safely.

Ponders

Although the Sixth Amendment has guaranteed criminal defendants a speedy trial since its ratification in 1789, the Supreme Court has been slow in defining its meaning. Only in 1967 was the right held to be binding upon state as well as federal trials.

In a second action, the court ruled 6-3 that state supreme court judges may be elected from districts that are unequal in population.

The unsigned, one-line decision agreed with a three-judge federal panel in Baton Rouge, La., that "the rationale behind the one-man, one-vote principle which evolved out of efforts to preserve a truly representative form of government is simply not relevant to the makeup of the judiciary."

Betty Wells, a Metairie secretary, had challenged the election of Louisiana Supreme Court justices from districts of differing size.

The Supreme Court has applied the one-man, one-vote rule to federal and state legislatures and to school boards.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Harry A. Blackmun, Lewis F. Powell Jr., and William H. Rehnquist combined to limit the principle established by the Warren court.

Justices Byron R. White, William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall dissented.

The ruling has a direct impact only in Louisiana and Maryland, they are the only states to elect justices of the Supreme Court from unapportioned districts. Six other states—Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Nebraska, Oklahoma and South Dakota—have provisions for reapportionment. In the 42 other states the justices are either elected at large or are appointed.

The court also agreed to rule on methods used by the Food and Drug Administration to determine the effectiveness of some 1,350 drugs as well as its controls over drugs on the market.

MINOR FIRES

City firemen doused a fire at Highlander Cleaning Center about 4:30 p.m. Monday. Burning lint on top of a dryer caught the facing around the dryer afire.

Earlier, Monday afternoon firemen put out a grass fire on the bank of Town Brook near South Mauvaisterre.

George Milstead Of Chandlerville Dies Monday

CHANDLERVILLE — George Russell Milstead, 63, of Chandlerville died at his farm at 9 a.m. Monday.

He was born Feb. 17, 1909 in Mason county, a son of Edward and Melinda Wing Milstead.

He married Norma Ray Feb. 22, 1930 at Virginia. She survives, along with two sons, Russell E. Milstead of Virginia and Darrell C. Milstead of Astoria; two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Winters of Merced and Mrs. Janet Ainsworth of Kilbourne; one brother, Leonard Milstead of Chandlerville; a sister, Mrs. Verna Gurnsey of Chandlerville; 15 grandchildren; and one great grandchild.

Mr. Milstead was a member of the Chandlerville Baptist church. He was a deacon and Sunday school teacher for the church for a number of years. He was also a member of the board of directors of Cass County Mutual Insurance Company and was the assessor for the Panther Creek township.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Chandlerville Baptist church with the Rev. Barton McClard officiating. Burial will be in Chandlerville cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Lintner-Buchanan Funeral Home. The body will be taken to the church one hour before services.

Think of it. Now, with a stroke of your pen, you can have tax-free benefits paid direct to you when a sudden accident or unexpected illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family! And you may enroll without having to see a company representative. All you need do is mail the Enrollment Form below together with your first month's premium. It's that easy!

Why You Need The Doctors Hospital Plan In Addition To Ordinary Hospital Insurance

Anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home?

If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job—or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spare no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use up savings it may have taken a lifetime to accumulate...they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without protection, a hospital emergency may leave you with savings gone, debts you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by money worries!

How The Plan Helps Protect You and Your Family

Now, with the protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of tax-free benefits when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the hospital benefits, you get all these valuable features:

Your Maximum Benefits Actually Grow Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit you enjoy, no matter which plan you choose: When your policy is issued, your insurance provides $5,000, $7,500 or $10,000—total benefits for all losses due to accidents and sickness—depending upon the plan you select. This is known as the "Aggregate of Benefits" in insurance language—what we call your maximum benefits.

Then every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first monthly premium) is actually added to your maximum—your maximum grows each month! Similarly, when you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from the maximum.

Your Insurance Is "Guaranteed Renewable"

That means we cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy as long as you live and continue to pay premiums. Or until you have collected every single penny of the benefits (Aggregate of Benefits) of the coverage you select. And we cannot change your rates unless we do so on all policies of this type in your entire state. You can drop your policy any time. Naturally, you may have only one such policy with Physicians Mutual.

You Get Valuable Benefits That Are Yours To Use As You Wish

The benefits you receive from The Doctors Hospital Plan are all in addition to any other insurance benefits you receive—hospital, major medical, or even Medicare. Every cent is tax-free...and all of it is paid direct to you. Spend it, use it any way you please, without having to account for these benefits to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Low-Cost Protection

You pay only $3.95 a month for the Individual Plan; only $6.45 a month for the Husband-Wife Plan; only $7.95 a month for the All-Family Plan; only $5.95 a month for the One-Parent Family Plan. (When you become 65, premiums increase. See box at right.) And remember, no matter what your age, size of family, or plan you choose, you get your first month for just $1.00!

How Can A Hospital Plan Offer So Much For So Little?

The answer is simple: The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. Thousands of people sign up with Physicians Mutual each week. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 70 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving more than 730,000 policyholders throughout the United States direct by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and is licensed to do business in your state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical and insurance professions.

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

You can enroll now. Just complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your Form. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy you will receive a simple easy-to-use Claim Form, which you send directly to the company when you want to claim your cash benefits.

Protect Your Family—Enroll Now. And Enjoy This Money-Back Guarantee

Take a moment now to fill out your Enrollment Form and mail it with your first month's premium. When you receive your policy, you'll see that it nancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

You are free to go to any lawfully operated hospital of your own choice, with these exceptions only: nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

WHICHEVER PLAN YOU CHOOSE YOU GET:

50% INCREASE IN YOUR BENEFITS... if you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition:

DOUBLE BENEFITS if both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time: You get double—$1,499.40 A MONTH ($49.98 A DAY)!

EXCLUSIONS:

You may choose any lawfully operated hospital, except only: nursing homes; or convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals or Federal hospitals. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter, with only these exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the All-Family or Husband-Wife plans, each of which covers maternity after the policy has been in force 10 months); alcoholism or drug addiction. Old health problems will not be covered for the first year of your policy, but from then on, you will receive the very same benefits for a pre-existing condition as you would for a sudden illness that hospitalizes you unexpectedly.

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OLDER

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. Now you can get the extra protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the Form below!

It's a fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan will accept you regardless of age, and gives you easy-to-carry protection, too. Of course, old health problems will not be covered for the first year of your policy, but from then on, you will receive the very same benefits for a pre-existing condition as you would for an unexpected illness. To find your monthly renewal premium, check rate box at left.

Husband-Wife Both 65 or Over	—	$12.45	$13.95	—

On all plans, your tax-free benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only these exceptions: preg-

19 Important Questions Answered

ABOUT THE DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a low-cost health protection plan that pays benefits direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you will still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. How do I qualify for this coverage?

Your only qualification is to complete and mail your Enrollment Form with your low first month's premium.

5. Which plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best!

If yours is a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered—and all your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all your unmarried children living at home (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21.

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. When does my policy go into force?

Your policy goes into force on the day it is actually issued, which is the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on that date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we call the maximum.

For example, under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum total benefit for all losses due to accidents and sickness is $5,000—$428.40 a month ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum total benefit for all losses due to accidents and sickness is $7,500—$428.40 a month ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 a month ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum total benefit for all losses due to accidents and sickness is $10,000—$428.40 a month ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $321.30 a month ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized; $214.20 a month ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum total benefit for all losses due to accidents and sickness is $7,500—$428.40 a month ($14.28 daily) when you are hospitalized; $214.20 a month ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), or heart attack (acute myocardial infarction, coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion), or stroke (apoplexy) after your policy is 12 months old.

9. What are the "double" benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY or HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double the regular benefits—$1,499.40 A MONTH ($49.98 A DAY)!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

On all plans, your tax-free benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

11. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin? You will be covered in any hospital except nursing homes, convalescent, extended-care or self-care units of hospitals, or Federal hospitals.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

These old health problems will not be covered for the first year of your policy, but from then on, you will receive the very same benefits for a pre-existing condition as you would for a sudden illness that hospitalizes you unexpectedly.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or if something happens "on the job" and is covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

Your insurance is "guaranteed renewable." That means we cannot cancel or refuse to renew your policy as long as you live and continue to pay premiums. Or until you have collected every single penny of the benefits (Aggregate of Benefits) of the coverage you select. And we cannot change your rates unless we do so on all policies of this type in your entire state. You can drop your policy any time. Naturally, you may have only one such policy with Physicians Mutual.

15. How do my maximum benefits grow each month?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—total benefits for all losses due to accidents and sickness—depending on the plan you choose. This is your "Aggregate of Benefits." Then, every month your policy is in force, an amount equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are simply subtracted from your maximum.

16. How do I claim my tax-free benefits?

With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form, which you send directly to the company when you want to claim your benefits.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

The answer is simple: The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. Thousands of people sign up with Physicians Mutual each week. All business is conducted directly between you and the company by mail.

18. How much does The Doctors Hospital Plan cost?

Only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See box above.) And remember, no matter what your age, size of family, or plan you choose, you get your first month for just $1.00!

19. Why should I enroll right now?

An unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your premium will be refunded immediately.

IC Hosts Principia This Evening

Four starters are set for Illinois College in tonight's home cage clash against Principia College, but Coach Bill Merris may not decide upon the fifth until practically game time. He probably will choose among Dennis Wright, Stan Messmore and Don Steers for the last berth.

Tip-off at I.C. Memorial Gymnasium will be 30 minutes later than usual. The 8:30 p.m. time was set at the request of the visiting team because of a conflict on their campus. There will be no preliminary tilt.

Dave Hobson at forward, Roger Busen at center, and Ron Petefish at guard, plus Don Petefish, are the starters whom Merris has named. Don Petefish would move from forward to guard if Steers gets the call, otherwise he would play forward with Wright or Messmore at guard.

Merris said that his team suffered most from a cold shooting performance in a conference loss at Iowa Wesleyan last Friday. Steers, who was the team's leading scorer last season, rated as a strong candidate to move back into the lineup, but also had a bad night from the field against the Tigers.

Tonight's game is last for the Blueboys this semester. They return to action Jan. 20 at Olivet-Nazarene.

Cent. Michigan Drops WIU 73-70

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Central Michigan held on to a narrow margin to edge by Western Illinois, 73-70, in non-conference basketball here Monday, and picked up its fourth victory in a row.

Senior guard Ben Kelson poured in 35 of CMU's points to pace the Chippewas and boosted his own career total to 1,276 points. That puts him in third place in school scoring. The record is 1,402 by Don Edwards who graduated in 1966.

The Chippewas are now 6-6 for the season. Western, led by Dale Adamson with 23 points, is 2-8.

Tornadoes, Routt Face Key Contests

Some very important conference games and at least two interesting non-league affairs highlight a busy Tuesday night on the local and area high school basketball schedule.

Perhaps the most important league game tonight finds Griggsville traveling to Kinderhook to take on undefeated West Pike. Griggsville holds this area's top record at 11-2, one of those losses 63-62 to West Pike in the Pike County Conference.

Griggsville stands 4-0 and West Pike and Barry 3-0 in the regular season Pike County Conference standing, with tonight's winner taking the favorites role.

Also in the Pike County tonight, Calhoun (6-4 overall and 1-3 in the league) is at Barry (7-4) and East Pike (4-7 and 2-3) goes to Liberty (2-2).

Some important games are also on tap in the PMSC, where Meredosia and Triopia stand 1-0 and face non-loop foes tonight. Routt (6-4 overall and 2-1 in the league) visits improved Chandlerville (4-7 and 0-1).

The Comets have won their last three, including impressive wins over Forman and Easton. Routt comes off a 41-36 victory over Winchester last time out, and has taken three of its last four contests.

Elsewhere in the PMSC Perry (5-6 and 1-0) goes to Bluffs (5-4 and 0-0) and Virginia (3-6 and 1-0) travels to Pleasant Hill (0-9).

Other conference games involving area clubs tonight find Jerseyville (4-5) at Bethalto in the Mississippi Valley, Kincaid at Porta (5-6) in the MSM and Athens hosting New Berlin (2-6) in the Sangamo.

Heading the log of non-conference games tonight are the Balyki at Meredosia (5-4), involving two of the area's highest scoring teams, and Triopia (5-4) at Winchester (4-5) matchups. Northwestern (1-7) is at Carrollton (4-4), Mason City entertains improved Pleasant Plains (4-6) and North Greene (3-6) entertains Alton Marquette in other non-league contests.

Long, Colwell Lead Franklin To 78-67 Margin

ASHLAND — Top-seeded Morrisonville and fourth-ranked Franklin notched first round victories Monday evening in the Annual Ashland Tournament.

Morrisonville, sparked by 6-6 sophomore Jim Allen's 18 points, bombed Mt. Auburn 62-23. Morrisonville led 20-5 and 38-10 at the first two stops.

Franklin, paced by Bill Long and Dave Colwell, downed Tremont 78-67. Franklin trailed 15-12 after eight minutes but outscored the losers 27-16 in the second and rolled in from there.

Long finished with 28 points, ten coming in the second and 11 more in the third, and Colwell added 23, 11 in the decisive second. Both Long and Colwell hit career highs in the contest.

Franklin was outscored by eight from the field but cashed in on 30 of 45 free throws for the victory.

Morrisonville and Franklin will tangle at 6:30 Thursday in a semi-final contest.

Church League

Nazarene-Congregational and Church of Christ captured Church League Basketball victories Monday evening.

Nazarene-Congregational clipped Central Christian 37-18 with David Shaffer hitting 14 points and Rob Shaffer 11. Rob Schneider netted eight and Vernon Lindell four for the losers, who trailed 19-9 at halftime.

Church of Christ got 12 points from David Mills and eight from Reg Draper and Mike Ubowski in 50-36 margin over Brooklyn Methodist 'B'.

How your Prudential agent could help you save up to 15% on insurance for your car or home.

For almost a century now, the Prudential name has been virtually synonymous with life insurance. And Prudential agents have been respected for their role in helping people build and protect financial security. Today, your Prudential agent has taken on a new dimension, with property and casualty insurance for your car, your home—just about everything you own.

Prudential introduces Prupac.

Prudential Property and Casualty Insurance Company—we call it Prupac—is a new Prudential subsidiary. It provides a different kind of insurance from your Prudential agent... the same Prudential agent you've been dealing with for years.

What does Prupac offer?

Prupac offers a series of insurance packages that insure you against loss or damage to your car, house, or furniture. Or, in case of damage to other persons or their property, give you personal liability coverage. The Prupac packages are as follows: Prupac Family Auto Insurance, Prupac Homeowners Insurance, Prupac Renters Insurance and Prupac Personal Catastrophe Liability Insurance.

Instant coverage.

We realize that after you and your Prudential agent have figured out the amount and the type of Prupac coverage you need, the last thing you want to do is wait around for that protection to become effective. So, with Prupac, your coverage is instant, even while you're waiting for your application to be approved. All it takes is the stroke of a pen, and a payment. You're covered immediately. Even before your agent gets his hat and coat on.

Prupac is exclusively Prudential.

Only Prudential agents may be licensed to offer you Prupac coverages. And only Prudential agents undergo the Prupac training that qualifies them to fit our policies to your particular insurance needs. Only Prudential agents can quote you rates on Prupac policies.

Now your Prudential agent is more than your friend for life.

Prupac gives you the opportunity to take care of just about all of your personal insurance needs through your Prudential agent. And gives you the convenience of working with one person, in confidence, to see to it that your possessions enjoy the same degree of protection as the members of your family.

Savings up to

The simple fact is Prupac rates are among the lowest in many areas... and could help you save up to 15% on insurance for your car or home. Take auto insurance. For example, Prupac offers savings for careful drivers, good students, driver training, multi-car families and more. To find out how much you could save, simply call the Prudential office nearest you. Or talk with your Prudential agent and ask him to quote you a price on a Prupac policy.

Service, claims and Prupac's computer systems.

Prupac claims service has been designed to bring new speed and efficiency to the property and casualty insurance business. Because that's what people want. Take auto insurance claims for instance. If you have an accident, all you do is call a toll-free number day or night and Prupac claims people will swing into action immediately. Fact: Three out of four of our policyholders' claim transactions are handled by phone. Fact: In the majority of cases, there are no Prupac forms for you to fill out.

We want Prupac to be No. 1

Prudential Property and Casualty Insurance Company is one of the newest and youngest companies in an extremely competitive business. But Prupac has been a long time in the making. We've watched other companies. We've listened to the man in the street. And we've spent a lot of time teaching Prudential agents the property and casualty business inside out. All because we want Prupac to be number one in service to policyholders.

It's nice to save money with someone you know.

Prudential Property and Casualty Insurance Company is a subsidiary of The Prudential Insurance Company of America. Prupac policies are not currently available in all states.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Little guys generally have one thing in common.

Deep down, they all think they're as good as the big guys. They even think they can beat them.

That's what makes Pat Fischer so different.

He does. Pat Fischer prevails over rivals 70 pounds heavier and half a foot bigger every Sunday, and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the same thing happens in the Super Bowl here next Sunday.

You have to see Pat Fischer to believe him. He makes his living two ways—as a 5-9, 168 pound corner back with the Washington Redskins and as a 5-9, 168 pound stock broker with Hornblower, Weeks, Hemphill and Noyes and Company in Washington.

The 3-year-old Fischer does a good job for the brokerage, but an even better one for the Redskins. That's where most people know him best from, anyway.

It's difficult, nearly impossible, to go out and watch the Redskins without becoming immediately aware of Fischer.

The first thing you notice about him is his size, the second is his remarkable aggressiveness and the third is his incredible ability to bring down the John Brockingtons, the John Riggins, the Calvin Hills and whomever without getting killed.

Fischer is used to people asking him how he keeps from being dismembered.

"I tell them the work a corner back has to do doesn't necessarily depend on his size," says the Redskins' 12-year-man who'll be going up against the likes of Miami's Larry Csonka, Jim Kilack and Mercury Morris next Sunday.

"They ask me how I get by being so small," says Fischer, laughing. "If they had the list of creditors I did, they'd understand how easy it is for me to go out on Sunday and survive. I have to pay these people somehow."

Fischer never thinks about getting hurt.

"If I thought about getting hurt, I'd be afraid, and if I was afraid, I'd have to give up something in timing," he says. "For any professional athlete to be successful he has to have poise, which is a result of good timing, and I rely on that as a vital part of the way I play."

Named to the Pro Bowl three times since coming into the NFL with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1961, Fischer actually sees his size as an advantage.

"You take some of those offensive guards at 6-5 and 6-6," he says. "When they pull out and have to block me, they have to get themselves in a very good hit position. They're moving, and in order for them to block me, they generally have to get real low and be much more agile than they are."

"Football really is a game of angles or leverage and that works to my advantage. I'm usually attacking a guard or tackle at a pivotal point. If I can just get underneath him a little bit and raise up at the same moment, I can knock him off balance much easier than he can me because he doesn't have good balance when he comes out of the line. He's usually so big, he isn't very mobile. You have to hit low. They're 6-3, 6-4 or 6-5, so it's hard for them to get low. I'm already there."

Stopping the runner is only part of Fischer's job. He also has to see to it the pass receiver doesn't get away from him.

"That's something I'm conscious of all the time," says Fischer. "The novice in the stands, the person who has never seen a football game before or knows very little about the game, knows immediately anytime I make a mistake. Everybody in the stands knows it. It's out in the open for everyone to see."

"A defensive back like I am takes one step the wrong way and he's finished. The other players on your team recognize it, the fans recognize it, and then all week long you're constantly reminded of it watching the film. At times the pressure is almost overwhelming, and an integral part of being a good defensive back is being able to come back after you've been beaten. Look, you're going to have people catch passes on you. There isn't anyway you can play professionally today and not be beaten sometime."

As for the Dolphins, Fischer says they're so good they don't really need his endorsement. That doesn't mean he is awed by someone like Csonka.

"My concern is his size," says Fischer. "If he can get turned up field, he's a difficult person to tackle. He's 240 pounds, but the idea will be to tackle him as low as possible get him by one leg. If I can do that, I can get him down."

Pat Fischer can and has. He's so good at his job, people keep noticing him all the time. President Nixon knows all about him, although he has never phoned him.

"I wish he would," says Fischer, quite seriously. "I believe I could make some recommendations to him that would help his economic program."

Knowing what I know about Pat Fischer, I believe that. He uses his brain a lot more than his muscle.

Northern Eases To 74-71 Count For 6-3 Record

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Northern Illinois' basketball team took the lead with under nine minutes left in the opening half here Monday and then withstood a pair of Western Michigan rallies in the final 20 minutes before finishing with a 74-71 victory.

The visiting Huskies, who stretched their season mark to 6-3, were led by guard Billy Harris, who hit 1 of 23 floor shots en route to 28 points, and center Jim Bradley, who tallied 23 points and claimed 15 rebounds.

Forwards Mike Steele and Bob Sentz paced the Western attack with 18 and 16 respectively, with reserve center Frank Ayers adding 11.

The Broncos, now 4-7 on the year, have had their last six games decided by a margin of three points or less.

Western led in the early moments and enjoyed its biggest lead, 19-14, with nine minutes gone in the contest. Northern then outscored the home team by an 11-2 margin in the next 2½ minutes, with Harris picking up six of the points.

They took the lead for keeps with 8:42 left before intermission.

Northern enjoyed a 44-35 half-time lead and quickly stretched it to 46-35 with 77 seconds gone in the second half for its biggest advantage of the game.

The Broncos came back to trail 50-48 with 14:57 remaining as Steele and Sentz threw in six and five points in this span.

The Huskies then moved out to a pair of six-point edges before the home team closed gap to 60-59 with 8:47 to go and then to 62-61 one minute later.

Successful baskets by Tim Bryant then gave NIU a 66-61 edge with 6:29 to play and their club was in command for the rest of the game.

EASTERN ROMPS 101-84
CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Fred Myers tossed in 23 points and Scott Kieve added 21 as Eastern Illinois scored an easy 101-84 victory over St. Ambrose Monday night in a nonconference basketball game.

Eastern, 4-8 took the lead at 8:08 and was never headed although the visitors rallied to tie the score at 31-31 late in the first half.

Myers and Kieve quickly pushed Eastern ahead and Eastern led by at least 10 points the rest of the way.

Dave Thomason took game scoring honors with 27 points for St. Ambrose whose record fell to 7-2.

Today's Prep Spotlight features a pair of players from Griggsville, Calhoun and New Berlin.

Dave Brawdy and Steve Dunham are two of the top performers on the Griggsville High School club that has the area's best record, 11-2. Brawdy is a rugged 6-3, 225-pound junior who leads the club in scoring with an 18.3 per game average. Brawdy has been in double figures in all 13 games to date with a varsity best of 30 in loss to Augusta Southeastern. Dunham, 5-10, 160-pound senior playmaker, is averaging 10.9 with eight games in twin figures and a one-game best of 19 in victory over Brown County.

Roger Zipprich and Eric Devening are two of the leaders on the Calhoun High team that owns a 6-4 record to date. Zipprich is a 6-3, 170-pound senior with a 16.1 per game scoring average and all nine games in double figures. Zipprich's best game was 25 points in victory over Greenfield last Saturday. Devening is a 6-1, 170-pound junior with a good scoring mark of late after a slow start.

John and Marty Marr are two of the veteran performers who have led New Berlin to two wins in eight games. John Marr is a 6-2, 190-pound senior with a league-leading 14.2 scoring average and six games in twin digits. His best is 21 in victory over ISD. Marty Marr is a 5-10, 160-pound senior playmaker with two games of six points each.

Lawrenceville Top Rated 'A' Outfit

By United Press International
Thrice beaten Lawrenceville, the defending state Class A prep basketball titlist, still was billed as the team to beat this year.

Lawrenceville won 111 of a possible 128 points and all but two first-place votes in balloting by the UPI board of high school basketball coaches, composed of coaches whose teams made up the eight finalists in the Class A tourney last year.

"I don't know if we'll get the breaks, but right now we're a better team than we were at the same time last year," said Lawrenceville Coach Ron Felling. His team took a 16-8 record into the playoffs last year.

"By rights, we shouldn't lose but possibly one more game this season, and that would be to Olney," Felling said.

The top 16 teams and their points, with won-lost records in parentheses, were:

1. Lawrenceville (9-3) 111
2. Ottawa Marquette (12-0) 89
3. Effingham St. Anth. (12-1) 80
4. Lovejoy (9-1) 70
5. Toluca (10-3) 67
6. Blmgt Cent. Cath. (7-5) 66
7. Elgin St. Edward (12-1) 57
8. Amboy (9-1) 36
9. Raymond Lincnwd (9-2) 35
10. Stockton (11-1) 29
11. (tie) Shabbona (11-1) 27
12. Quincy Cath. Boys (6-6) 27
13. (tie) Winona (9-1) 24
14. Decatur St. Teresa (7-3) 24
15. Vienna (11-0) 21
16. Mounds Meridian (5-5) 20

Other teams getting 15 or more points were: Venice 17, Lanark 16 and Colfax Octavia 15.

Haley Sets Two School Records

CHICAGO — George Haley of Jacksonville established two school records for Lincoln Land Junior College of Springfield in the University of Chicago Track Club indoor meet over the past weekend.

Haley, a freshman at Lincoln Land, came in third in the 70-yard low hurdles with a time of :08.3. The winning time was :08.1. Haley finished fifth in the 70-yard high hurdles in :09.2, behind the winning time of :08.6.

Both of Haley's times were school records.

Uphill Role For Pizza Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — George Allen and a raft of his Washington Redskins are "home." And despite being the oddsmakers' favorite in the National Football League's Super Bowl VII, Allen is casting himself as a coach on an uphill road.

"Don Shula has done a tremendous job," Allen said of the coach of the Miami Dolphins, his opposition in Sunday's game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. "He's taken a team that was a loser and taken them through an undefeated season to the Super Bowl."

Allen, of course, has done pretty much the same thing with Washington since he was dumped two years ago by the Los Angeles Rams after five straight winning seasons.

Armed with a seven-year contract as head coach and general manager, Allen took a Redskins' team which had recorded just one winning season in 15 years and whipped it into a squad with a 9-4-1 record in 1971. That put them into the playoffs for the first time since 1945.

This year the Redskins finished 11-3, their best season ever, then beat Green Bay and Dallas for the National Football Conference championship.

Still, there's that matter of facing the NFL's first unbeaten, untied team in 30 years.

"We've proved we're a winning football team," said Washington wide receiver Roy Jefferson, "but we still have to prove we can beat a 16-0 team."

If, as Allen believes, the Redskins really are the underdogs, it's because Miami has been through this before, and history proves the winner generally has been the team with more championship-game experience.

And while Washington's primary goal this season was to get into the Super Bowl, Miami's was to eradicate last year's performance. Dallas, which had lost Super Bowl V, beat the Dolphins 24-3 in Super Bowl VI.

ISU Rolls Late For 107-91 Romp Over Morehead

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Roger Powell and Rich Whitlow led a second-half surge that carried Illinois State to a 107-91 rout of Morehead, Ky., State in the opener of a college basketball doubleheader at the Nassau Coliseum Monday night.

Southwestern Louisiana, the nation's 13th-ranked team, met Cincinnati in the nightcap.

Doug Collins, an American Olympic star and the country's third leading scorer last season, scored 15 of his 21 points in the first half as Illinois State took a 38-35 lead.

In the first 10 minutes of the second half, however, Powell scored 18 points and Whitlow 12 as the Redbirds opened a 74-59 spread. Powell finished with 30 points and Whitlow 28 after being held to four and six, respectively, in the first half. Powell made 15 of 30 shots and Whitlow 14 of 23 as Illinois State posted its seventh victory in 12 games.

Howie Wallen paced Morehead, 4-8, with 26 points.

'Y' VOLLEYBALL OPENS WEDNESDAY

The YMCA Service Club Volleyball League kicks off its first round matches Wednesday evening starting at 8:30 p.m. Four teams have entered the league which will use the double round-robin type of play.

During the first night, league champion Elks will play the Rotary Club, and Kiwanis will battle Jaycees. Play will be held the second and fourth Wednesdays during January, February, and March.

Kiwanis Club won the first league title in 1969, and Elks Club won the next two titles in 1970 and 1971. Since the league is getting started later than the normal December playing dates, this fourth annual championships will be considered the 1972 title.

Each match will consist of three games of fifteen points. Each game must be won by at least two points. All members of a Club are eligible to play for their team, but a maximum of six players may be used on the court at one time. A forfeit will be called if any team has less than five players.

Church League

Salem Lutheran clipped Liberty Christian 59-47 at a Church League basketball game played Sunday afternoon.

Wally Mischnick whipped in 18 points and Larry Baker 12 for the winners, who led 36-22 at intermission.

WICHITA, Kan. — Twelve outstanding players with Illinois flavoring will be among the top 100 senior collegians in the nation receiving votes when halloing opened January 8 for the Pizza Hut Basketball Classic.

Seven of the players are listed on the White (West) ballot for the team to be coached by Bob Boyd of Southern California. The other five have been nominated for the Red (East) squad to be skippered by Ohio State's Fred Taylor in the game to be played April 14 in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Carrying Illinois colors for the West ballot will be: Missouri guard Mike Jeffries who prepped at Alton, Texas A & M guard Mari Brown who played at Chicago Kennedy High School and Kennedy-King Junior College, Arizona rebounding whiz Lynard Harris from Chicago Farragut, high-scoring Ozie Edwards of Oklahoma City who was recruited from the Chicago schoolboy ranks, Al Lewis of Creighton from Chicago, former Chicago John Marshall star Darryl Minnefield who is now a Western Athletic Conference standout at New Mexico and Ruben Triplett of Southern Methodist who exploded on the Southwest Conference scene after a heralded career at Galesburg High School and Robert Morse J.C.

Listed on the East are former Illinois Mr. Basketball Jim Brewer who prepped at Proviso East before moving on to Minnesota, the Most Valuable Player award in the Big 10 Conference and a spot on the 1972 United States Olympic team; Illinois State's Doug Collins, who was the No. 3 scorer in the nation as a junior before winning a berth alongside Brewer on the Olympic team; Illinois All-America hope Nick Weatherpoon, NAIA standout John Laing of Augustana and Murray State (Ky.) whiz Les Taylor who matriculated from Carbondale High School.

Eight players from each team will be selected by popular vote and two will be named by a national coaching-media panel. Proceeds from the game will go to four recipients, including the Foundation for Research and Education in Sickle Cell Disease and the youth-oriented Basketball Congress of America along with the continuing education fund of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois moved into a stall with a little more than two minutes left to play Monday night and hung on for a 76-74 Big Ten conference basketball victory over Wisconsin.

The Illini moved their conference mark to 1-1 while the Badgers fell to 0-2 as a result of the see-saw battle in which both teams came up with balanced scoring and the lead changed hands throughout the game.

Illinois moved to a 4-2 edge but Wisconsin held the lead until the final shot of the first half when sophomore Otho Tucker put Illinois ahead 41-9 on a breakaway.

Wisconsin regained the edge in the second half at 56-53 but the Illini ripped off eight straight points as Nick Weatherpoon, who led all scorers with 24 points, headed the way. The Badgers, 5-5 for the season.

Shula: Maybe Agnew Will Back Miami

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "No, the President hasn't called us lately," said a smiling Don Shula. "But, he's chosen his side...well, just as long as we know where he stands."

The Miami Dolphin coach then added, "Maybe we can get Vice President Agnew to come out for us."

Shula received several telephone calls from President Nixon in 1972 as Miami marched toward a Super Bowl showdown against Dallas. He even gave the Dolphins a play to use against the Cowboys.

Dallas won that game 24-3. With the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII Nixon's allegiance shifted. Coach George Allen was asked by the White House for tea. The President was rooting for the gang from the nation's capital.

"I'm just glad the President is interested," Shula said.

Monday was interview day for the Super Bowl principals. The Dolphins mingled with newsmen, photographers and autograph-seekers at Blair Field in Long Beach, where they will prepare for Sunday's National Football League climax.

"If we go 17-0," said middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti of the unbeaten American Conference champions, "it'll be interesting to see what Shula will demand of us next. He'll probably ask that we come back next summer, beat the College All-Stars and win all our exhibition games. He'll find something to ask of us."

Quarterback Bob Griese, asked about the Redskins' rah-rah approach to pro football, said, "I don't concern myself with the way other teams prepare. I like the Shula method and 16 wins in a row is a tribute to it."

Shula treats each Dolphin individually in getting the team emotionally ready for a game. Some get a boot in the pants, some are chided, some are praised. Others are left alone.

"Some guys need a shove, others rebel against it," Griese said. "I don't need any help. I can prepare myself."

Kooker Places In AAU Action

Petra Kooker was the lone Jacksonville swimmer to score in the Holiday AAU Swim Meet held at Lewis and Clark College in Alton over the past weekend.

Over 700 swimmers representing more than 20 swim teams competed in the 2½ days of competition. The number of swimmers in each event ranged from 50 to 82. To score a swimmer had to place in the top six times in an event.

Miss Kooker scored a pair of second places, in the 25-yard and 50-yard breaststroke events and added a fourth in the 50-yard backstroke and fifths in the 25-yard backstroke, 50-yard freestyle, and 25-yard freestyle.

Eddie Flynn came in seventh in the 50-yard backstroke, missing sixth place by one-tenth of a second.

Several Jacksonville swimmers will compete in an AAU meet in Springfield this coming weekend.

Shutouts Abound Around League In Hockey Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Let's have three cheers... but no goals... for the New York Islanders and the California Golden Seals—last in the National Hockey League but first in the hearts of enemy goaltenders.

Proving that they're just as good—or, rather, just as bad—on the road as at home, the hapless expansion Islanders dropped a 4-0 decision Sunday to the Red Wings in Detroit. One night earlier they lost at home, to the same team, by the same score.

It also was a tarnished weekend for the Golden Seals, losers by 5-0 to the Canadiens in Montreal on Saturday and 4-0 to the Maple Leafs in Toronto on Sunday.

Shutouts abounded elsewhere Sunday as the New York Rangers blanked the Pittsburgh Penguins 3-0 and the Buffalo Sabres whitewashed the Philadelphia Flyers 2-0. In other action, the Chicago Black Hawks edged the Boston Bruins 5-4 in a nationally televised duel of division leaders while the Atlanta Flames downed the Vancouver Canucks 5-2.

Other Saturday results: Toronto 4, Los Angeles 2; Buffalo 4, New York Rangers 1; Pittsburgh 4, Vancouver 2; Chicago 2, Minnesota 0; St. Louis 2, Atlanta 2.

The weekend ended with Montreal two points in front of Boston in the East Division and Chicago eight ahead of Minnesota in the West.

Goalie Marv Edwards was the author of both Detroit shutouts against the Islanders. Sunday's was his fourth of the season, tying him with Montreal's Ken Dryden and Minnesota's Cesare Maniago for the NHL lead.

Toronto rookie Ron Low notched his second NHL shutout as after a telephone vote by the IU Board of Trustees.

The 37-year-old Corso, who was an assistant at his alma mater Florida State, Maryland, and the Naval Academy before taking over in Louisville, succeeds John Pont, who resigned Dec. 23 to accept the head coaching post at Northwestern University.

Corso rebuilt a sagging team at Louisville, and the Cardinals were ranked 17th in the national ratings this season.

His four teams at Louisville compiled a 28-11-3 record and lost only four of their last 28 games. The 1972 team ran up a 9-1 record, losing only to Tulsa, 28-26, in an upset.

The Leafs trimmed the Seals on goals by Rick Kehoe, Denis Dupere, Errol Thompson and Norm Ullman.

It was a good weekend for the netminding Dryden brothers. Montreal's Ken blanked the Seals on Saturday and Buffalo's Dave zeroed Philadelphia on Sunday after stopping the Rangers 4-1 a day earlier.

Jim Lorentz and Rick Martin got the Buffalo goals as the Sabres stretched their home winning streak to 12 games and remained unbeaten at War Memorial Auditorium—18 wins, three ties.

The surprising Sabres remained tied with the Rangers for third place—four points behind Montreal and two in back of Boston—when New York's Eddie Giacomin turned in his third shutout in the last five games, blanking Pittsburgh.

Two goals apiece by Dan Maloney and Cliff Koroll and a goal and four assists by Stan Mikita paced the Black Hawks over the Bruins, who got a pair of power-play goals from John Bucyk. Maloney's second tally with 51 seconds left in the second period snapped a 4-all tie.

The expansion Flames moved into third place in the West Division, one point behind Minnesota, by downing Vancouver on a trio of third-period goals.

In the only World Hockey Association action, Chris Boredeau and Dune Rousseau scored two goals apiece as the Winnipeg Jets fired 53 shots at Minnesota's goalie Jack McCartan and routed the Fighting Saints 6-2 in the first nationally televised WHA contest.

NEW YORK: Earl Monroe of New York Knicks gets some close guarding from Mike Newlin of Houston Rockets during weekend game. Monroe scored 25 points as Knicks won 116-106 for their sixth straight victory. (UPI Telephoto)

College Gridders Now Await Draft

BY JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

College football's seniors had their final showcase this weekend before the National Football League draft and by all indications, it should be a splendid draft indeed.

The three All-Star games, the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and the Hula Bowl in Honolulu on Saturday and the American Bowl Sunday in Tampa, Fla., had their share of brilliant plays by both big names and not so big names.

In the Senior Bowl, the first play-for-pay outing for seniors, the South, with Chuck Foreman of Miami (Fla.) leading the way, beat the North, 33-30. At rain-drenched Honolulu, Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt led the South to a 17-3 victory over the North and at Tampa, Louisville's John Madeya came off the bench to spark the North to a 10-6 victory.

Foreman, a 6-foot-3, 200-pounder who was a wide receiver for Miami most of this season after starring as a running back the previous year, carried 24 times for 167 yards and caught three passes for 59 more to earn Most Valuable Player honors.

Pete Van Valkenburg, the nation's leading rusher from Brigham Young, gained 159 yards for the North, 75 of them coming on a TD burst in the first period. Dave Butz, Purdue's mammoth defensive tackle, Burgess Owens, a brilliant cornerback from Miami (Fla.) and wide receiver Barry Smith of Florida State each received $2,500 bonuses.

Winning players received $1,500 each and losers $1,250. Perhaps the biggest story of the Senior Bowl, however, was that of Ron Jaworski, a little-known quarterback back from Youngstown State. Jaworski was invited to the game when Oregon's Dan Fouts was injured and nearly turned it around for the North in the final period as he hit 8-of-13 passes for 147 yards, including two 48-yard TD passes.

Jaworski's outshine such highly-touted quarterbacks as Bert Jones of Louisiana State, Tony Adams of Utah State and Gary Huff of Florida State.

Rain turned the Hula Bowl into a comedy of errors as nine fumbles and eight pass interceptions ruined the game. The North lost three of its four fumbles and had three passes intercepted, one of them returned for a touchdown by Stanford's Jim Merlo.

Pruitt was named the game's MVP after gaining 61 yards on 17 carries and catching three passes for another 20 yards. Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers of Nebraska was unable to get untracked in the mud and carried five times for minus nine yards. He caught two passes for 49 yards.

Madeya, who broke most of John Unitas' passing records at Louisville, set up a field goal and then threw a 16-yard TD pass to Nebraska's Jerry List for the American Bowl's only TD in the fourth quarter.

The American Bowl marked the final college coaching appearance of Nebraska's Bob Devaney, who is retiring to become the school's athletic director.

Arizona Nets Pair Of Weekend Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's national collegiate basketball champions keep rolling along with 55 straight victories so maybe you haven't heard about Arizona's Kiddy Korps.

The Arizona Kiddy Korps, so-called because of four freshmen starters, muscled their way into national prominence over the weekend while mighty UCLA was running up an 87-61 score on Oregon State for their 55th in a row.

On Friday the Kiddy Korps upset Texas-El Paso 79-73 and demonstrated it was no fluke by upsetting New Mexico, one of the Top Twenty in the Associated Press rankings, with a come-from-behind 83-73 victory Saturday night.

That put Arizona, which lost 20 of 26 games last season, into a first place tie in the Western Athletic Conference over the pre-season favorite Brigham Young.

Coniel Norman, one of the four frosh, threw in 34 points against the Lobos and led a 24-12 spurt that put the Wildcats ahead after they trailed by 41-36 at halftime.

Norm Ellenberger, New Mexico coach, called Norman one of the premier shooters in the country. "You need a canoe paddle to guard him," Ellenberger said. "Unfortunately we didn't have one."

"These kids are proving something to themselves that not many kids their age get to do," said Arizona Coach Fred Snowden, referring to Norman, Eric Money, Al Fleming and Jim Rappis. "They're learning they have to be adults now."

Snowden said Saturday's game with Arizona State on the road at Tempe "is going to be a real barn burner. It could be the civil war all over again."

Arizona State also beat New Mexico and Texas-El Paso over the weekend to tie Arizona for the lead in the WAC.

Minnesota and Southwestern Louisiana, two of the Top Ten in last week's AP ratings, were knocked out of the unbeaten ranks on Saturday.

Iowa upset the No. 6 Gophers 65-62 in overtime on Rick Williams' layup and Glenn Angelino's two foul shots in the closing seconds. Jacksonville clouted the No. 8 Ragin' Cajuns 120-78.

In Sunday games, fifth-ranked Long Beach State ended the University of Pacific's 45-game home court winning streak with a 91-85 victory and Notre Dame edged visiting Kansas 66-64 in overtime.

Ed Ratliff scored 30 points, 20 in the first half, to help boost Long Beach State to a 12-1 record. Pacific got 21 points from Jim McCargo.

John Sumate's late tip-in in regulation play and Dwight Clay's three foul shots in overtime paced Notre Dame.

Rod Funseth Takes Title In Campbell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rod Funseth, who admits to some occasional negative thinking, called his wife, Sandi, after the third round of the $135,000 Open Campbell-Lee Angeles Glen golf tournament.

"I've got a 17-stroke lead over last place," the curly-haired, soft-spoken Funseth told her.

Sandi, no negative thinker, promptly put two bottles of champagne on ice.

She had the right instincts. Funseth, who has made a 13-year career as a supporting player to the likes of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino, scored a solid, methodical, almost pedestrian three-stroke victory Sunday in the event that opens a 12 month schedule on the pro tour.

"I'm so negative, if I had a 10-stroke lead, I'd be afraid I was going to fall and break a leg," the 39-year-old Funseth said. "Sandi's a lot different, just the opposite. She gets so mad at me sometimes."

Not this time. Funseth stroked irons to within almost tap-in distance for consecutive birdies on the eighth and ninth holes, parred the last nine in routine fashion as he pumped shot after shot to the middle of the green and finished with a two-under-par 69 for a 276 total on the 7,028-yard Riviera Country Club course.

It was only the second career victory—the other was in the 1965 Phoenix open—for Funseth, who has collected a flock of course records only to blow the advantage. This time he collected $27,000.

Second place ended up in a four-way tie among Don Bies—Funseth's long-time roommate—Australian David Graham, Dave Hill and Tom Weiskopf, all at 279. Graham had a 71 with Hill, Weiskopf and Bies all at 69.

Jack Nicklaus, winner of $320,000 when he took player of the year honors in 1972, really didn't get it going as he three-putted twice en route to a final 70 for 280.

Arnold Palmer wasn't a factor. He had his best round, a 69, in the mild, overcast weather of the final day and finished with a 286. Sixty-year-old Sam Snead, just one stroke back starting the last round, bogeyed both of the par threes on the front nine and faded back with a 73-281.

Lincoln Rolls Past Champions

By United Press International

"I think there are times, we as coaches, have to be satisfied with the way our kids are playing, and not the way the fans want them to play," says Lincoln High School basketball Coach Duncan Reid.

"I think every team could probably be more physical," Reid said Sunday, "but we have good over-all balance and I'm satisfied with the way they're playing."

Reid has reason to be satisfied. His Railsplitters hold a 13-0 record so far this season and is considered one of the teams to beat en route to the state championships.

Their latest accomplishment was a 67-53 victory over the Dolton Thornridge Falcons Saturday night.

Joe Paterno To Stay At Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)

Joe Paterno, admitting he wants to be more than a football coach who has to win to remain employed, says that was why he decided not to jump to the National Football League.

Ending weeks of speculation, Paterno shocked many people Saturday morning when he told newsmen, "I've decided to remain at Penn State."

The 46-year-old Paterno rejected an offer to become coach-general manager of the New England Patriots of the NFL. The offer included a stock interest in the franchise.

A source close to the university said the total package was just short of $1.25 million over five years.

Paterno said his main reason for turning down the plush Patriots' offer was an aversion to becoming a coach whose life revolved around winning and losing. He envisioned himself as more than just a coach. He said he'd rather influence young men than build a pro football winner.

Pressure Got Them

"I think our pressure defense got to them (Thornridge)," Duncan said. "They had a full court zone defense and we attacked that, so they backed off on it some."

Falcons Coach Dave Lezeau agrees.

"Lincoln did an extremely good job of handling our press. They allowed us very few steals and we had very few easy baskets off our press. I think they handled us as well as anybody in the last few years

Congress Focuses On Budget Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is preparing to begin its organized effort to get better control of the budget—and in the process to regain some of the power which, its members contend, has slipped over the years to the White House.

The 16 House members of a special committee created by the last Congress to devise effective legislative budget machinery have set their first meeting for Wednesday, Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., said.

Ullman is author of the provision creating the committee, enacted when Congress turned down President Nixon's request for sweeping authority to cut back funds the legislators had already authorized.

Ullman said he will propose establishment of permanent budget committees in both House and Senate, composed of senior members of the two taxing and spending committees in each body.

These committees would be charged, he said, with examining the president's spending proposals and developing, within 60 days, a congressional budget that would set limits on all appropriations.

The regular congressional committees then would take over and produce the money bills for the various government activities.

At the end of the appropriating process, the budget committees would make a final review, recommending cutbacks and adjustments or, if the state of the economy required it, modifying the original budget ceiling.

Ullman acknowledged, in an interview, that the last attempt to establish an effective congressional budget, in the 1940s, failed. But, he said:

"This year, I think we can do it. We have a lot of support both in Congress and in the country. Members are finally facing up to the realization that we have to provide a mechanism for responsibility."

Ullman said he hopes the full special committee, including the 16 Senate members, can meet by the end of the week and begin work on its recommendations. It has all year to develop them, but a preliminary report is due Feb. 15.

Meanwhile, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., another member of the committee, circulated a draft of a proposal somewhat similar to Ullman's.

Reuss, however, would bring the Joint Economic Committee, which studies the over-all economic condition of the country, into the budget-making process, and would call for recommendations on taxation as well as spending.

MANILA (UPI) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos postponed a referendum on a new constitution Sunday, decreed "rumor-mongering" a crime and imposed the first death sentence since his proclamation of martial law last September.

Marcos also outlawed any discussion of the pros or cons of a new constitution voters planned to vote on Jan. 15 and said security forces had discovered a new plot to kill him, members of his family and key government officials.

The 55-year-old president, in a radio and television report on the first 100 days of martial law, said he took action because of fears that his "new society" was slipping back to its pre-martial law ways.

Marcos also ordered tougher action against drug dealers and said he accepted the advice of his top military men to sentence convicted heroin manufacturer Lim Seng to death "by musketry."

Lim, 52, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment by a military tribunal last October. Marcos' decision to upgrade the sentence was the first death penalty ordered since he proclaimed martial law Sept. 23.

Reuss, however, would bring the Joint Economic Committee, which studies the over-all economic condition of the country, into the budget-making process, and would call for recommendations on taxation as well as spending.

Ullman said he hopes the full special committee, including the 16 Senate members, can meet by the end of the week and begin work on its recommendations. It has all year to develop them, but a preliminary report is due Feb. 15.

Meanwhile, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., another member of the committee, circulated a draft of a proposal somewhat similar to Ullman's.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The first of the corporate annual reports will be in the mails during the next few weeks, preparing stockholders and analysts for that other recurring phenomenon of the business scene, the annual meeting.

These two practices have become institutionalized—so much so, say the critics, that they have become rituals whose meanings have been lost in the past.

It is literally impossible to assemble any but a minute fraction of General Motors shareholders, for example. There aren't enough planes, trains, hotels and halls to accommodate them.

Even if such a miracle could be performed, these shareholders would have little to say that counted. Most business is prescheduled, most shareholders too small. More than 40 per cent of GM owners hold only 1 to 25 shares.

Do they utilize the time so saved to read the annual report? Judging from a survey by an investor relations firm, it wouldn't seem so. It found that 40 per cent of stockholders spent five minutes or less and that 15 per cent don't read their reports at all.

Fred Foy, former chairman of Koppers Co., analyzes the report in the current Harvard Business Review and gives them low marks. In effect, he maintains that the poor readership is justified.

It appears, he suggests, that the planners and writers of reports fail to analyze their potential readership. And as media people today realize acutely, any publication that goes unread is soon dead, even if not so declared.

"They seem to edit pretty well for the in-depth people but pretty badly for the once-over, lightly, once-a-year stockholder readers," Foy states and then asks: "How do we reach them?"

The solution, he believes, is to highlight the year's activities in single paragraphs for the 15-minute readers, with notations to security analysts and others that an expanded version can be found on inside pages.

Among some other sins: While poor in communicating the good news, annual reports often relate no bad news at all; they don't give divisional breakdowns; they do very little to reveal the human side of management.

Management, almost every security analyst will agree, is one of the most important considerations to evaluating a company. In fact, some maintain, management is everything—that a company is nothing but management.

But most annual reports, Foy observes, do little more than list top management and directorial changes during the year, listing uninteresting and maybe meaningless job labels and dates in chronological order.

Hospital Costs Can Fracture You

By CARLTON SMITH
Have you any idea what a hospital stay will cost, in dollars and cents, if a member of the family needs hospital care during the coming year?

And do you know what part of the bill would have to be paid out of your own pocket?

The answers to those two questions determine whether you have enough health care insurance, and of the right kind. Most importantly, make sure you're protected against a crippling financial blow.

Nationally, the expense per patient day in community hospitals averaged $81 last year, according to Social Security Administration figures. It ranged from $53 in Wyoming to $112 in California. Wherever the hospital, bills tend to be bigger in the larger hospitals, which maintain more specialized facilities and services.

That may come as a shock, if you haven't paid a hospital bill recently. Daily service charges have increased an average 14 per cent a year in the past seven years—enough to raise the $40-a-day room of 1966 to $100.

For the average patient, in 1971, private hospital insurance covered 36 per cent of the bill, again according to SSA figures. It also picked up 36 per cent of physicians' charges. And it paid only 4 per cent of "other health services"—such things as well decide you need more protection.

Since the average takes in the whole population—including the elderly, who rely less on private insurance because of Medicare—the patient who does depend on private insurance would find a larger share of his bill covered. Still, it's obvious that there can be quite a gap between what the insurance pays and what comes out of pocket.

Every family should periodically review its insurance coverage, to find out what services are paid for, what the limitations are, and finally how much is left uncovered. You might well decide you need more protection.

It's a common mistake to try for "complete coverage"—trying to plug all the holes, large and small, to achieve what the insurers call "first-dollar coverage." That's expensive, of course. It's like buying auto insurance that would pay for a wash job whenever the car gets splashed with mud.

What both the car owner and the hospital patient need is protection against the bills of several hundreds—or several thousands—of dollars, which can spell financial disaster.

In the health field, that means major medical insurance. After your basic coverage stops paying the bills, major medical starts. Generally there is a deductible—a no-pay gap—of $100 or $200; thereafter a major medical policy typically pays 75 or 80 per cent of the patient's expenses.

If, for example, you had bills for $1,500 of charges not covered by the basic policy, major medical would typically reimburse you $975 to $1,120.

These policies can also help pay the smaller bills, too, if you accumulate enough charges for office visits, prescriptions and other out-of-hospital expenses during the year. Add up all expenses not covered by the basic policy, and they can be submitted as a major medical claim, subject to the deductible and co-insurance feature (that is, you pay 20 per cent, the company pays 80 per cent).

For most families, the major medical policy is a good investment in protection against being financially crippled.

SOYBEAN, GRAIN

FUTURES DECLINE

CHICAGO (AP)—Agricultural commodity futures prices were weak on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday.

Within minutes after the opening, soybean futures fell 5½ cents, wheat 4½ cents, and corn and oats 2½ cents. There was some recovery, however, within the first hour.

Soybean meal declined $2.50 a ton and soybean oil fell back around 10 points. Iced broilers moved independently higher, however, advancing some 60 points on active buying and short-covering. Red meat futures also were higher.

The selling in the major pits on the opening was, to a degree, profit-taking by some large-holding professionals and commercial interests.

After soybeans had declined 6½ cents, some commission house buying then entered the pit and prices turned around. Meal and oats, also weak on the opening, tended to improve slightly.

There appeared to be no particular outside influence on price movement. However, the return of cold readings into the Midwest was a small factor in the selling.

The weather and commercial selling also were factors in the weakness of corn and wheat. Support in the two pits was thin. Oats trade was very slow, but mixed.

After about an hour, soybeans were unchanged to 2½ cents a bushel lower, January 4.29½¢; wheat was 1 cent lower to 1¼¢ higher; March 2.59¢; corn was ¾¢ to 1¼¢ lower; March 1.55½¢; and oats were ½¢ to ¾¢ lower, March 96¢ cents.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market paused to catch its breath Monday in what brokers said was a natural reaction to the sprints in which it engaged last week.

Trading was fairly active, though it slackened in the afternoon. Total sales were 16.84 million shares, down from Friday's 19.33 million.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed at 1,047.86, up .37. Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange maintained a small lead over gainers most of the day. At the finish they were ahead 771 to 676, with a total of 1,806 issues traded.

The Dow had climbed in three of last week's four sessions, had set a new all-time closing high at 1,043.80 Wednesday, topped it Friday at 1,047.49, and closed out the week with a net gain of 27.47 points. Monday's small gain raised the indicator to another all-time closing high.

"The market was in a state of apathy and seems to need some speculative leadership," said Bradbury K. Thurlow of Laidlaw & Co., "but I don't know where it is going to come from."

Many of the top leaders of the Big Board's most-active list arrived there on the strength of block trading.

The volume leader was Gulf Oil, off ¼ to 26, with a block of 52,500 shares moving at 26½¢.

On the American Stock Exchange, Houston Oil & Mineral was the volume leader, up 8 to 29½¢. The company announced a "significant" gas discovery in Galveston Bay, Tex.

Mr. Nichols and Mr. Roberts reported on their meeting with State's Attorney Goetten concerning policies of handling problems concerning juveniles in school.

The board approved summer baseball in principle and further study is needed before it can be finalized.

The days of Dec. 4, 5, 12, and 13 were dropped from the adopted 1972-73 calendar and the day of Jan. 2 was added by resolution.

Bid specifications for two 1973 66-passenger buses were examined. After being agreed upon, the date of Feb. 5, 1973, at 4:30 p.m. was decided upon as the deadline for acceptance of both body and chassis bids.

A letter was read from Mrs. Nancy Mansfield, President of the North Greene Education Association, informing the board of their intent to negotiate. Mr. Brant will appoint a committee in the near future.

Mrs. Linda Schutz was hired as secretary in the guidance office.

A bid of $900 was read for the new trophy case at the high school which is being built by the class of 1968. The remainder of the funds will revert to the class officers for a reunion.

Applicants for the position of Driver's Training teacher and coach were discussed. No decision can be made until all applicants have been screened.

Vandal "Shoots" Store Display At Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — Charles Harmon, manager of Kline's Department Store, said a $125 display window at the store was damaged by BB shots.

Police had previously reported other vandalism, apparently the work of boys with BB guns. The Christmas season decorations were removed from the buildings and the city park area Saturday morning by Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteers, and packed away for another year.

This is an annual project for the JC members, and they have put considerable money in the decorations, which they have been furnishing in town for several years.

They plan an appreciation dinner to be held at the Elks Club January 27, at which time wives of the members will be honored.

Change Meeting Dates

Members of the Beardstown Chamber of Commerce have been informed that the regular dinner meeting scheduled for January 9, has been rescheduled for January 16.

This was necessitated by conflicting arrangements, the announcement said.

Recover Stolen Car Sunday

Jacksonville police recovered a 1966-model car Sunday that was reported stolen Saturday night.

The auto is owned by Arthur Curry of 1600 Hardin and was stolen about 8 p.m. Saturday when left running and unattended in front of the Kroger Store on West College.

Patrolling police found the abandoned auto about 2:30 p.m. Sunday on Grove Street, east of the intersection with South Diamond. Officers say the car apparently was not damaged and nothing appeared to have been stolen from it—other than the keys.

The car has been impounded at police headquarters for the taking of fingerprints and any other clues.

3 BURGLARIES REPORTED SUNDAY

City police received reports of three burglaries Sunday.

Police were notified of a burglary at Sorrell's Cafe at 203 East Morgan where approximately $150 in cigarette money had been removed from a drawer.

Entrance to the building was gained through a window and the apparent exit was by a rear door. Nothing else was reportedly taken.

Police also investigated a burglary at The General Store, 224 East State Street. Entry to the premises was through a back door and the store had been ransacked. Several items were stolen, including some money, two shotguns and an undetermined amount of merchandise.

The third burglary was reported as one of the units at Maplecrest Apartments on South Diamond.

City police are still investigating the incidents.

POLICE PROBE INHUMANE ACT

An inhumane act was reported to police Sunday night by Mrs. George Mason of 864 Hardin.

Mrs. Mason said her cat was shot with a bow and arrow sometime Sunday afternoon. She apparently did not know who might have been responsible for the incident.

When the incident was reported at 7 p.m. Sunday, the arrow was still in the cat and the pet was still alive.

CARS COLLIDE ON W. MORTON

Two cars received moderate damage in an accident at 1:47 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of West Morton and South Church.

A southbound auto driven by Anna L. Frye, 47, of 1124 W. Walnut attempted a right turn onto Morton and struck the right side of a second auto driven by Lena M. Scott, 46, of Roodhouse.

There were no injuries in the mishap. City police investigated at the scene of the accident.

CLOTHES CARE TODAY

By RUTH E. HOWARD

Sweet Smelling Closets. Worn clothes with dirt and dust and body odors leave a musty odor in the closet. Keep your closet clean and sweet-smelling. If the closet needs it, try closet spray or sachet. Here is another good way to get every penny's worth from the bottle of your favorite cologne. Make it pay off right down to the last drop. Remove the cap and tuck the empty bottle into the corner of the closet or on the shelf. What a delightful fragrance your clothes will have! You will have an elegant feeling when you know your clothes are clean, and they smell that way. Try the same trick in the drawer space you occupy.

Clothes worn all day need airing before they go back into the closet. Body odors and food odors seep into the fabrics of your clothing. Unless these odors have time to disappear, they go back into the closet and spread this odor into fresh cleaned clothing. Your closet-sachet, cologne or clean-smelling closet spray doesn't have a chance. The shoes you wear also carry odors. If your feet per-

Program In Years For City Streets

One of the biggest road maintenance and street overlay (blacktop) programs in years was unveiled by Monday night's city council session calling for expenditures of up to $190,000 in motor fuel tax funds on only those designated as arterial streets.

Carl Bourn, chairman of the municipal services committee, said the program for 1973 would include about twice as much two-inch blacktop overlay than for the past two years.

In addition, the council will have an opportunity to add a new bridge over the Town Brook at South Clay at an estimated cost of $108,000. Clair Hutchison of Casler, Houser and Hutchison, Inc., told the council that the plans and specifications for the new bridge has been approved and that the existing structure had been the subject of much maintenance over the past few years. He said the council could advertise for bids anytime. Bourn said he would ask that the item be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Streets Listed

Streets scheduled for the paving overlay in 1973 include: North Main from Wolcott to Walnut; West College from Sandy to Westminster; Mound Ave. from Park to City Place; Diamond Court from College to State; Dunlap Court, from College to State; East Beecher from Mauvalterre to Hardin; North Pine from State to Lafayette; Prospect from State to Grove; South Clay from Morton to Superior; Sandusky from State to Elm; Franklin from South Main to Clay. Estimated cost of the overlay project is expected to range something over $143,000.

Previous projects during the past two years have been confined to the downtown area primarily to ease traffic movement in and around the business district. That phase of the project was completed last year and plans made to improve residential streets for better traffic flow.

Several aldermen expressed their approval of the improvements.

Tomlovich Mayor Pro Tem
Alderman Joe Tomlovich from the third ward, also a candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket, was named mayor pro tem by unanimous vote of the council. A letter from Mayor Dan F. Lahey indicated that he would be out of town for the Monday night meeting and that he recommended the appointment of Mr. Tomlovich to take the mayor's chair.

Tomlovich cast the only negative

Enter Not Guilty Pleas To Theft Of Narcotics

PITTSFIELD — A Beards-town couple, Leigh Schrodt, 27, and his wife, Judy, 17, and 21-year-old Jerry L. Martin of Macomb, pleaded not guilty in Pittsfield Monday (Jan. 8) to charges of theft of narcotics from the office of a Griggsville doctor.

A preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 17.

The three were arrested Jan. 1 in the vicinity of the office of Dr. Stefan Hicks, where a burglary had occurred.

When taken into custody the three allegedly had in their possession a quantity of controlled substance.

The Schrods are out on bond. Martin's bond was reduced to $5,000.

Schrodt previously has been charged with possession of cannabis in Schuyler county and had been arrested here on Dec. 5 on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. State's Attorney Bob Welch said the charge against Schrodt in Cass county had been dropped.

T. W. Goodwin Files For Clerk

T.W. Goodwin was the only person to file nominating Monday for the upcoming South Jacksonville village elections. Goodwin, the incumbent village clerk, is seeking to retain that office.

It was incorrectly reported in the Sunday Journal Courier that Goodwin was appointed village clerk in April, 1971. In fact, he was elected to that position.

New Road Grader
Alderman Bourn received council permission to purchase a nearly-new John Deere road grader for use of the city. Bourn said the new price is $21,000, but that the particular grader he looked at had been rented for 200 hours, and that with a trade-in, would cost $18,500.

The council authorized application to the circuit court for demolition of two unsafe and dangerous buildings located at 1012 N. Clay and 445 N. Webster.

New Fireman
Alderman Clarence Scott announced that the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners had certified the name of Floyd L. Anthony of 1302 South Clay as the replacement for Ed Souza in the fire department. Souza retired on disability. Anthony will begin his duties Jan. 19.

The council authorized up to $250 for sending Lawrence Taylor, building inspector, to a seminar at University of Illinois Jan. 21 to 29.

Alderman Larry Evans called attention to the council that of the original $139,000 in bad debts from the utility departments more than two years ago, the figure had been reduced to about $11,000.

Evans said the reduction of bad debts and subsequent collection handled during the two-year period was largely the work of Joe Farran and others in the utility departments who have been working on the problem. Evans said he felt the staff had done "very well" and should be commended for their efforts. He said the efforts would continue.

The council gave approval for operation of a "roller marathon" from about midnight Jan. 26 through midnight, Jan. 28. The request came from Marion E. Graves, operator of Rainbow Roller Skating Rink on North Main. Graves said his regular hours of operation are from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. but that he asked for special permission for the marathon so as not to be in violation of his city license permit.

New Construction

The estimated cost of new construction during 1972 was placed at $3,290,167.80 according to a report filed by Building Inspector Lawrence Taylor. This represents 202 new structures started during 1972. Taylor also listed 18 structures demolished in 1972 representing about $3,340 in demolition.

A request for re-zoning and special use permit for construction of off-street parking was passed on to the city plan commission for evaluation. The request was made by H.E. Jones and Byron E. Sorrell for re-zoning from R-3 to R-5 and a special use permit for parking lot for JBV, Inc. (Jim's Big Value Foods on East Morton Avenue).

Caldwell Engineering Co. received authorization of the final payment from construction of the sewage treatment plant. It amounted to $30,000 plus about $500 in interest. The money was placed in a savings account earlier pending settlement of a suit with Chicago Bridge & Iron Co. and filing of several releases by other sub-contractors and suppliers.

Alderman Don Voismier received council permission to invest about $142,000 in revenue-sharing money in treasury bills.

Landfill Operation
Alderman Bourn asked that a communication from the landfill operator be read which called attention to difficulties encountered. He asked that the city assist in securing a special permit to burn brush caused by the recent ice storm. City Attorney Bill Colburn said he would be happy to assist in any way possible.

The communication called attention to out-of-town dumpers, city haulers doing pickups out-of-town, doubling of refuse supplied by the city; all small towns advised by EPA to use the Jacksonville landfill, and that he would be willing to sign a new 5-year contract at an increase of $1,000 per month. It was pointed out that the landfill operator may charge anyone from out-of-town for dumping in the landfill. No action was taken concerning the electric utility department.

Monday Night

The Gordon Village Board honored the memory of their former mayor by adopting a resolution by unanimous vote Monday night.

Former Woodson mayor, the late George Lee Vaniter, was honored by changing the name of South Street to Vaniter Street.

Mayor Vaniter was killed Dec. 29 in a head-on collision east of Jacksonville on Route 36.

Jim Megginson was named by the board to serve as acting mayor during the interim period until the election in April.

400 Attend Deere Day At Riggston

By MRS. JAMES COX (Winchester Correspondent)
WINCHESTER — Approximately 400 persons attended John Deere Day at Gordon's Implement Company is Riggston recently. This is an annual affair.

During the day, displays of John Deere equipment were shown with a new tool, Lely reterra, being introduced. Other new types of equipment shown were: a rear mounted harrow — harrow and a remlinger.

During the day, everyone enjoyed a movie showing the latest type of John Deere farm equipment with drawing for door prizes held in the afternoon. Neil Maul of Litterberry won a tool box and a set of tools; Pete Spangler of Winchester won a sweater and Martin Werries of Chapin also won a sweater.

At noon, a bar-b-que lunch was served under the direction of Russell Morris.

Legion Meets
The regular meeting of Julian Wells Post 442 of the American Legion was held Wednesday with approximately 50 Legionnaires attending. A fish and chicken supper preceded the meeting.

Commander Richard Hoots conducted the meeting. The treasurer, Albert Herring, requested that $500 be transferred from the picnic fund to the general fund to meet current expenses with this being passed by the members.

The members voted to continue sending cards to each member reminding him of the monthly meetings unless it was a special meeting. This was to be done on a trial basis. The members were reminded that an increase in the National dues resulted in an increase to $6 for local dues. Dues are to be paid to Eddie Kirkpatrick or Albert Herring.

Howard Lockman's name was drawn for the door prize, he was not present to win.

MOD Unit To Meet
Members of the MOD Unit of Home Extension will meet Wednesday, January 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension Center.

The Home Extension Adviser will present the major lesson.

CWF Sets Committees
The CWF General Meeting of the First Christian church was held Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. with the president Mrs. Lawrence Gillham presiding.

Presenting the program was Mrs. Lloyd Wisdom with Mrs. Russell Wilson in charge of the worship service.

A committee consisting of co-chairmen Mrs. John Carlton and Mrs. Buell Patterson was appointed to serve on the World Day of Prayer set for March 2. The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Leonard Plozman, Mrs. Charles Brown, and Mrs. Clement Thomas was appointed to report at the March meeting.

The secretary, Mrs. Eddie King, read correspondence.

Refreshments were provided by the Mary-Maria Circle with Mrs. Harold Peareyough, Mrs. Clement Thomas, Miss Nellie Roosa and Mrs. Buell Patterson in charge.

Neighborhood Girls Meet
The Neighborhood Girls 4-H Club met Thursday evening at the home of Shirley Pence assisted by Pam Six, Beverly Roberts and Barbara Rousey.

Pledges to the flags were led by Kim Summers and Shirley Pence. Talks were given by Susan Anders, Becki Lashmet, and Becky Cox. Recreation was led by Kim Summers.

The next regular meeting will be held February 5 at the home of Susan Anders.

PAYS $25 FINE IN THEFT CASE

Charles Coulter, 118 W. Independence, entered a plea of guilty Monday morning before Judge Gordon Seaton on a charge of theft and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and $15 court costs. The charge stemmed from a shoplifting incident at Jacksonville Foods.

Walker's First Message: 'The Free Ride Is Over'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Gov. Daniel Walker told 7,000 persons gathered at the steps of the Statehouse for the state's first outdoor inauguration Monday he will "sweep the arrogance of bureaucracy from the halls of power."

Walker, 50, won cheers from the crowd as he placed his hand on the Bible held by state Supreme Court Justice Walter V. Schaeffer and took the oath as the state's 36th governor, the 17th Democrat to hold the post.

Looking on were Richard B. Ogilvie, the Republican incumbent Walker ousted in the Nov. 7 election, Paul Simon, the Democrat he defeated in the March 21 primary, three U.S. senators, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and all the top legislative leaders.

The governor's father, Lewis Walker Sr., a retired Navy man, Walker's wife, Roberta, their children, and his brother, Lewis Walker Jr., a Navy officer, were also present.

The craggy-looking corporation lawyer who trudged 1,197 miles from political obscurity to the governor's mansion appeared without a topcoat to take the oath in 20-degree cold.

Fifteen television crews trained cameras on the Annapolis graduate and author of the controversial Walker Report as, standing at the base of the weathered Abraham Lincoln statue, he placed his hand on the Bible.

Walker grinned broadly and emphasized every word as he swore to do his job "to the best of my ability."

Also inaugurated Monday were Michael J. Howlett as secretary of state, William J. Scott for a second term as attorney general, George W. Lindberg as comptroller and Neil F. Hartigan as lieutenant governor.

The University of Illinois Marching Band and the high school band from Walker's hometown, Deerfield, played for the ritual and Gwendolyn Brooks, poet laureate of Illinois, recited her composition "Aurora."

It said in part: "It is a giant hour. Nothing less than giant-hood will do."

Walker said that the "most serious dilemma we face" is a loss of faith by the citizens in their government.

"If our citizens continue to lose their sense of faith, it can strike at the heart of democracy," he said. "For if we no longer believe that the people we choose can govern us, we are really saying that we no longer believe in our own capacity for self-government."

"I reject this doctrine of doom completely," Walker said.

"My deepest resolves as governor of Illinois will be to sweep the arrogance of bureaucracy from the halls of power, to let the voice of the people be heard once again."

Walker pledged "in the months and years ahead to return to the towns and farms and cities of Illinois."

"I will hold accountability sessions on a regular basis so that the people whose government this is can tell me what we have done and have not done," he said.

"These sessions will not be held behind closed doors or only for those with special power and office," he said. "They will be open to every citizen who wishes to be heard."

Walker promised to search for "better ways to deal" with the problems closest to the people.

"These are the ones which too frequently get buried under the business of government," he said.

Walker also had a word for "those who have grown rich on the public dollar."

"To ... those who have won secret grants and contracts, to those in government who put themselves first and the taxpayers second—to you I bring my first message from the people of Illinois: The free ride is over."

After the ceremony, the Walkers made a brief inspection of the governor's office, the largest in the Statehouse.

Then, flanked by his newly acquired team of bodyguards, the new governor climbed into his limousine and was whisked the four blocks to the Executive Mansion to attend a reception for his inaugural committee.

Although a "citizens committee" was billed as the planning body of the inauguration, the event actually was mapped out by Walker's political advance staff, headed by Rich Block.

Like a campaign rally, it was timed to the smallest detail. Three separate balls were scheduled for inauguration night, with television coverage planned for the one in the state Armory.

The other sites were the Centennial Building and the rotunda of the Statehouse.

Walker Appointment Apparently Illegal

CHICAGO (AP) — The appointment of Frank A. Kirk as director of the Illinois Department of Personnel by Gov. Daniel Walker was apparently in violation of a state statute barring political officeholders from heading up the department.

Kirk was elected to a two-year term in the March 21 primary election as a Jackson County Democratic precinct captain.

Norton Kay, Walker's press secretary, acknowledged the appointment was "in conflict with the law" but said it was "an oversight." Kay said after conferring with Walker that the governor would withdraw the appointment and name a new director.

"Mr. Kirk will be acting director until we can designate a new director," Kay said. "We had discovered that he (Kirk) was a precinct committeeman Saturday, and we were planning to announce something this week."

"It's too bad because he (Kirk) ran for precinct committeeman to help elect Dan and got into the system only to get caught up by it," Kay said.

The law disqualifies anyone from serving as head of the personnel department who has held a political post in the two years before his appointment.

Kirk, 45, a Carbondale resident and a Southern Illinois University consultant, could not be reached for comment. He was in Springfield attending the inauguration of Walker and other state officials.

MAN TICKETED AFTER ACCIDENT MONDAY AFTERNOON

Marvin B. Schlieker, 59, Meredosia, was ticketed by city police for failure to yield the right of way after his auto collided with a car driven by William F. Six, 38, Winchester.

The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. Monday at the College-Sandy intersection. Damage was severe to both vehicles, and the Schlieker car was towed from the scene.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. Anna Roe of Roodhouse, who has been confined to Norris hospital has been moved to Passavant for surgery there.

The following Mt. Sterling residents are hospitalized: Dwight Armstrong at Memorial in Springfield, Edith Buxton at Schmitt in Beardstown, and Ernest Sprinkle and David Mathewson at Culbertson in Rushville.

Mrs. Loran Thompson of Chandler is a patient at Norris hospital.

Mrs. Millie Busch of 133 Spaulding has been transferred from Passavant hospital to Memorial hospital in Springfield.

"Sssssss" HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Tim O'Connor and Ted Grossman were added to the cast of "Sssssss" at Universal.

The intersection of the Old State Road and State Route 123 east of Jacksonville will become a four-way stop for all traffic within the next two weeks.

The four-way stop protection has been sought for many years according to Jack Stovall, county highway engineer, and authorized Monday morning by Neal Morton, District Six Traffic Engineer.

Attempts by county officials during the past several years to have the intersection declared a four-way stop have been in vain, but final efforts by the board of county commissioners resulted in the decision announced at the courthouse Monday.

Stovall said the stop signs would be installed sometime during the next two weeks and that the state of Illinois would revamp the approach signs and stop signs on both Route 123 and the Old State Road.

The intersection has been the scene of numerous accidents and traffic fatalities over the past several years.

Witness Describes Nitrate Pollution

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — An Illinois State Water Survey hydrologist testified Monday at an Illinois Pollution Control Board hearing that there is widespread nitrate pollution of surface and ground waters in Illinois.

William Walker, the hydrologist, said the nitrate pollution was caused primarily by animal and human wastes and nitrogen fertilizer used in farming. He said nitrate can be harmful to children who drink contaminated water if the chemical is present in concentrations exceeding 45 parts per million.

Walker was one of 30 witnesses who testified Monday at the third IPCB hearing on proposals to regulate the treatment of animal waste and insure the elimination of nitrates washed by rainwater into the ground water system.

The board previously held hearings in Rockford and Galesburg and has scheduled hearings Jan. 11 in Moline, Jan. 26 in Jacksonville and Feb. 1 in Carbondale.

Dr. Allen G. Mueller, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois, said, "It is impossible to estimate the cost of such compliance ... There is a disturbing lack of data and sufficient research funds are not available to universities to accumulate more data."

"I recommend," he said, "that they (proposals) be set aside until we can estimate the need for them."

He said the proposed regulations might cost Illinois farmers $84 million, or 10 per cent of the total farm income in Illinois.

Samuel Ridlen, poultry extension professor at the University of Illinois, said the proposals provided a "serious, if not impossible task" for producers.

Philip Christianson, an Illinois Conservation Department engineer from the Soil Conservation Service, said regulations only are necessary for the small number of persons "who don't care about the environment."

"But most farmers do care," he added, "and it still is not clear whether they cause a pollution problem of sufficient magnitude to warrant these regulations. There is not enough data to know," he said.

Man Detained In City Jail Monday Night

Ismael Ortega, 39, 1008 West State, was lodged in city jail Monday night following an incident about 7:30 p.m. at the home of June Ortega, 28, 717 North Main.

Ortega was charged by city police with battery after he allegedly beat Mrs. Ortega. She was taken by ambulance to Passavant Hospital, where she was treated and released.

Two Waverly Young Men Face Charges

Two Waverly young men were brought to the Morgan county jail about 8:30 p.m. Sunday on charges stemming from a series of incidents earlier in the evening.

Charged with aggravated battery before Judge Gordon Seaton Monday were Robert L. Patton, 17, of Waverly, and Rodney D. Creemans, 19, of Route 2, Waverly. In addition, Patton received tickets charging fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer and having loud mufflers on his car.

The events leading to their arrest stemmed from a high-speed auto chase earlier in the evening.

The aggravated battery charges apparently stem from some resistance offered at the time of their eventual arrests.

The court set bond at $5,000 each for appearance Wednesday morning. Both were permitted to sign their own bonds.

Driver Pays $100 Fine

Judge John B. Wright assessed a fine of $100 and $10 court costs on a plea of guilty to driving too fast for road conditions Monday afternoon in Morgan county circuit court.

Donald D. Vescelius, 29, of Portland, Oregon, entered the guilty plea stemming from an accident east of Jacksonville.

Births

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster of Alexander of the birth Jan. 6th of a son to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Laputz of Nipomo, California. The couple's first child has been named Alex Markiza.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Widdows of San Diego, California. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Frank Foster of Alexander and Mrs. J. C. McGinnis of Springfield.

The mother is the former Carol Foster of Alexander.
